

What We Will Learn This Week

Bible-

I have always found the Twelve Disciples fascinating. Jesus chose twelve men from different backgrounds to follow him. Without hesitation, they gave up the life they were living and followed Jesus.

Language Arts-

It has been exciting to observe the growth the students are making in reading. We will be learning various consonant blends for the next couple of weeks, learning to read words such as stick and tent. For those who are already reading words with blends, we will work on reading words with long vowels.

Math-

We will begin a new unit on simple fractions last week, identifying whole and parts of a whole, focusing on creating 2, 3, and 4 equal parts.

Heritage Studies-

We are starting a new unit this week titled "Mountains High and Oceans Deep." We will learn about mountains, caves, canyons, prairies, and bodies of water. We will start with the mountains.
