- Science: We will finish our chapter on earthquakes and volcanoes this week. The following week, we will complete a volcano project, and the chapter test will be on Thursday, September 18th.
- History: We will continue our unit on the Plymouth Colony. Highlights will include the study of the Mayflower, the Mayflower Compact, Squanto, and the first Thanksgiving.

Language Arts & Bible:

- Reading: This week, the students will read a biography about Todd Beamer, one of the heroes of Flight 93 on September 11th. This story is written by Todd Beamer's wife and not only shares his heroic acts, but it also relates facts about his spiritual walk with Christ.
- Vocab Test: Thursday the 18th. The students have vocab cards in their binders to study.
- English: We will focus on how to use commas correctly in our sentences.
- Word Study: The test over List #3 is on Tuesday. The students' study sheets are in their binders.
- Jar of Books Challenge: The fifth graders won the August challenge! They read a total of 39 books! I'm so proud of their hard work! Please encourage your child to read for this new month. They're required to read at least one book that is 175 pages or more and at their reading level. They're welcome to check with me about reading levels.
- Bible: This week, we continue our study on worldview by analyzing tactics the media and advertisers use to influence and deceive the public. As Christians, we must be aware of these tactics and always compare what we see, hear, and learn to the truth of God's Word.
- Memory Verse: Students will study Psalm 119:89 for their verse quiz on Friday.
