

4th Grade Roundup

April 15-19, 2024

Reading: When the students aren't taking the iLearn tests this week, they will continue their mystery novel. We will focus on the comprehension strategy of questioning, asking ourselves good questions about the texts we're reading.

Reading Journals: No journal is due this week. The students may read for double the Explorer Bucks if they choose. They may write their books and minutes on a piece of paper and have a parent sign it. This is optional.

English: We will review various types of essay writing this week around taking the iLearn tests on Tuesday - Friday.

Spelling: No tests this week and no new words will be given.

History: The students will be celebrating Jackie Robinson Day on Monday, April 15. We are still wading through ancient Greek gods, goddesses, philosophers and myths. A review of the midwestern states is planned for Friday.

Science: This week the students will learn about internal structures and body systems of vertebrates. They should continue planning and designing their biomimicry project.

Math: On Monday we will review our long division chapter. The remainder of the week will be spent in iLEARN testing.

Bible: We will complete our study of the story of Joseph on the days we are not testing.

Bible Memory verse: Psalm 113:3
