Classroom News

Hello, third grade parents! I can't believe we are beginning the second semester of this school year! I hope you all had a wonderful Christmas break.

This Friday, we will have a math test over multiplication and division facts. We also will have our routine spelling, Bible verse, and handwriting test on Friday.

In addition to having the students write their spelling words 3 times and their verse once, I will be adding one more part to their homework. I would like for each student to read 20 minutes when they are not at school- this could be on their way home or to school the next day, after dinner, before they go to bed, or any other time after school. The more reading children participate in, the more confident and fluent they will become. If you have questions or concerns about this new addition, please let me know via email.

There will be no chapel this week, but there will be Mileage club this Tuesday and Thursday. Next Thursday, January 13, we will have our monthly Mileage club challenge. The students will receive an extra lap if they bring snow gear with them for mileage club.

I hope you all have a wonderful week!
