Math (Nash)

We are going to begin the year learning and positive and negative numbers. Every Friday there will be a timed multiplication test over basic multiplication facts 0s-12s. Please be working on these weekly with your child. Having these facts memorized is essential to success in Math this year.

Science (Nash)

We will begin chapter 1 this week with learning about earthquakes (plate tectonics and earthquake waves).

ELA (Baker)

Reading: Students will learn to make an inference as they read a coming of age story.

English: Review parts of speech

Word Study: List 1 test Tuesday; the study sheet is in the binders.

History (Newton)

The students will begin the study of the American colonies this week by discovering the New World with the men and boys of Jamestown. The class is also working on cardinal and intermediate directions on a map.

Bible (Baker)

Students will compare secular and Christian worldviews
Memory verse quiz over Isaiah 40:29 (ESV) on Friday.
