Math (Nash)

We will finish our chapter over fractions this week. We will learn about equivalent fractions, comparing & ordering fractions, and simplifying fractions. There will be a chapter test on Friday, September 12th.

Science (Nash)

We will finish our chapter over earthquakes and volcanoes this week. The following week we complete a volcano project and the chapter test will be on Thursday, September 18th.

ELA (Baker)

Reading: The students will listen to a recording by President Reagan, regarding the Challenger explosion. They will analyze his purpose and reasoning. Vocabulary Test is on Wednesday! Please have the students study the vocabulary cards in their zipper pouches.

Jar of Books Challenge: The fifth graders won the challenge for August with 39 books. The sixth graders were close behind with 35 books! Please encourage your child to read for this new month. They are required to read at least one book that is 175 pages or more and at their reading level. The students are welcome to check with me about reading levels.

English: We will focus on types of sentences and punctuation this week. As 6th graders, the students should be punctuating the ends of sentences correctly without needing prompting. I've noticed many of the students rushing and not showing concern about completing the assignment accurately. Please encourage your child to slow down and give their best on every assignment. Their grades will reflect their careless attitudes.

Word Study: The students will test over Unit 4 on Tuesday.

History (Newton)

We will continue our unit on the Plymouth Colony. Highlights will include the study of the Mayflower, the Mayflower Compact, Squanto and the first Thanksgiving.

Bible (Baker)

This week, we continue our study on worldview by analyzing tactics the media and advertisers use to influence and deceive the public. As Christians, we must be aware of these tactics and always compare what we see, hear, and learn to the truth of God's Word.
