

From The Ferns

Who we are:

Our mission is to protect and preserve the environment by protecting natural habitats, rehabilitating wild animals, and rescuing exotic pets. By prioritizing education and awareness, we are committed to fostering a sustainable future through not only compassionate care, but community engagement and educational initiatives that inspire responsible stewardship of our planet and all its inhabitants.

Our goals for 2026:

2025 has been a momentous year for us. We were officially founded in July, and recently we received our 501c3 certification and charitable status. We have continued to grow quicker than we could have ever imagined, however our aspirations are far greater than just wildlife rehab. In 2026 we will find a more permanent facility, thus enabling us to provide the best possible care to wildlife, and continue to grow so we can better serve our community. Our absolute top priority is ensuring that every animal we interact with receives the highest possible standard of care. We will achieve this by continued education for our rehabilitators through independent classes offered by the IWRC. We will also achieve this by growing partnerships with local veterinary clinics and other wildlife rehabilitation organizations. We have several community events planned, including clean up hikes, monarch waystation information, and hummingbird garden set ups, all with the help of local businesses. Plus we have some very exciting community service ideas in the works that will hopefully be announced very soon.

How you can help us achieve our goals:

One of our top priorities as an organization is transparency. We are currently a 100% volunteer based organization, so all funds donated will go to the animals in need and helping us increase our reach and effectiveness. We are setting up an Amazon wishlist for those that would rather donate products directly and will always be super gracious to receive items such as old fish tanks, towels, animal enclosures, and anything else that will help us aid more animals. Any wildlife rehabilitators please reach out to us if you are interested in joining our team. With the help of the community, we hope to achieve incredible things for local wildlife and pet owners alike. With their generosity, we will continue to grow and offer more services, but we cannot do it without your help!
