Salish Tribal Alliance Group, a Native American-owned consulting firm, and Boxabl, an innovative modular home builder, have joined forces to deliver real solutions for affordable, workforce, and Tribal housing needs. Combining cultural expertise with cutting-edge construction technology, they are creating cost-effective, rapidly deployable homes that honor community values and meet urgent demand. Together, they're not just promising change—they're delivering accessible, high-quality housing that transforms lives and builds stronger futures across Native lands and beyond.

The Casita is designed with simplicity and efficiency in mind. As a result of our patented, innovative manufacturing process, our Casita is able to be installed much faster than most traditional homes. The Casita comes standard with a full kitchen and bathroom, as well as plenty of living space which is perfect for a couch & bed or whatever you envision! In addition to the appliances, our Casita also comes equipped with all the necessary utility hookups such as water, electricity, internet, and sewage which means setup is a breeze & you are ready to live in your new home.

Our Process

- 1 Begin by submitting your inquiry below. You will be prompted to provide additional project specific information via email following your submission.
- 2 A member of our business development team will call you to discuss your project in detail. We will be able to work through any questions that you have, and ultimately provide you with a quote for your project.
- 3 Sign a purchase agreement, pay your initial deposit, and work through any necessary preparation work associated with your project. This includes engineering, obtaining permits, coordinating with your contractors, etc.
- 4 Submit your final payment, and work to coordinate pickup and shipment of your units. BOXABL will be your main point of contact and will provide you updates throughout this process.
