SUMMARY

This is the APS template for the 15th APS International PharmSci Conference 2024. Summarise your manuscript in this section. Do not write more than 200 words. Please do not add any sub-headings; write in a continuous flow of text as a single paragraph. Do include a brief rationale, methods used, key findings/results and main conclusion, limitation, or future direction from this work. Please do not change font, point size, margins or fiddle with the column, page or section breaks as this will distort the Abstract formatting, and it will be rejected. A strict word count limit of 200 words is in place for this section to comply with indexing database restrictions upon publication of the abstract.

INTRODUCTION

Please include a short and concise introduction to bring context to your work. Please make a note of the following before you start.

DO NOT CHANGE the document formatting, line spacing, font and point size, margins, column structure and spacing between columns etc. The fonts used in the template is Book Antiqua 10 in full caps is used for headings and sentence case for the text. The text is justified with 1.15-line space, and 10 points spacing after paragraph. Please do not change anything.

The header and footer will be created upon submission so please do not try to edit these. You should, however, still fill in the contact details for the corresponding author and list your keywords.

Please include the references to support your manuscript, use author-date style of references.

MATERIALS AND METHODS

Please summarise your materials and methods in this section in enough details to allow reproducibility of your work or provide cross-citation for detailed protocols if published already. Provide the enough details of the materials used to allow readers to source them from respective manufacture/suppliers.

RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

Summarise your results in this section and discuss them in light of other published literature.

Use the given layouts for the Tables/Figures, place the captions and footnotes appropriately, and do not change the font-size/style. The manuscript should not exceed two pages. If your abstract goes over two pages, do not change the formatting, margins etc to fit this in, please give it a fresh review and cut it down to two pages without changing formatting.

Graphics should be in TIFF or PNG format, 600 dpi for graphics, charts, drawings, or tables and 200 dpi for photos and greyscale images.

Image resolution can be compressed by right clicking on the image, clicking the "Format Picture" menu, followed by the "Picture" tab, and clicking on the compress button.

Choose the Print check box to alter the resolution to 200dpi.

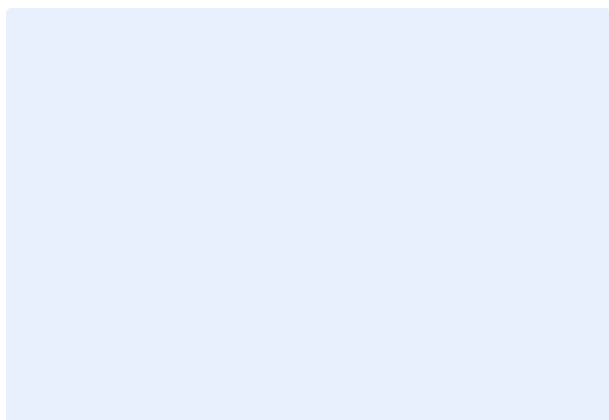

Fig. 1. The figure caption should be place here.

Continue writing above and below the figures. Please keep the two-column alignment the same and do not change any formatting.

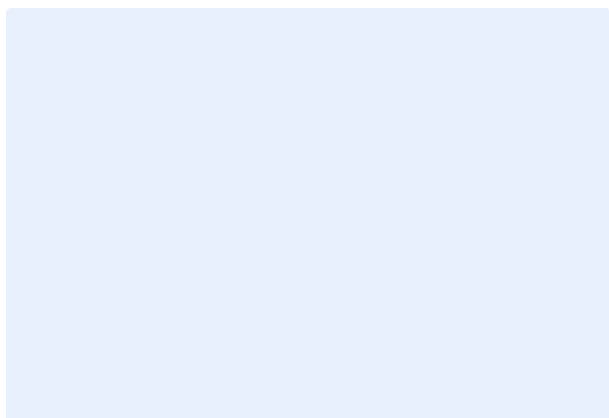

Fig. 2. The figure caption should be place here.

Add any tables in the format below – do not change the format/layout of the tables. Insert necessary information in the footnotes just below the table and do not change the font/point-size and style.

Feel free to add another table should you need to or delete the table or Figure box if you do not need one.

Make sure all figures and tables are appropriately cited in the body of the text in the document.

Table 1. Your table caption should come here.

first column	The second	Third	Fourth
First parameter	12.22 ^a	22.33	44.22
2 nd parameters	44.22	12.22 ^b	22.33
3 rd parameter	12.22	22.33	44.22
4 th parameter	44.22	12.22	22.33
5 th parameter	12.22	22.33	44.22

^a the footnotes referring to a, ^b footnotes referring to b, ^c the footless for c

If you have a large table or figure that would not fit into a single column, please adjust the formatting to a single column for this section. The abstract should not exceed two pages.

CONCLUSIONS

Conclude your findings here, be precise and to the point and do not write more than a short paragraph.
