

Values-driven, ethical and holistic care

CHAA's members have been quietly trusted for generations in the care of Alberta's most frail, elderly and vulnerable residents. Just as we care for today's seniors, we also cared for their parents, grandparents and great grandparents. It is a legacy that continues to build stronger with each successive generation of Alberta seniors.

Our work is guided not by earnings, profits or losses – but by our vision, mission, and values. It is through this lens that we foster and embrace a society in which we cherish, honour and care for those in need – in an environment where staff can fulfill their personal and professional calling to serve others. In our efforts to create holistic, resident-centred, spiritually rich environments, we remain committed to the highest standards of resident quality of life, family support, and staff fulfillment.

Our Mission

To follow the values of our faith so that we may serve all Albertans in need of care and compassion, by supporting and engaging our residents, communities, members and our governments through inclusive leadership, education, awareness and advocacy.

Our legacy of values-driven, holistic care continues to build stronger with each successive generation of Alberta seniors.

Our Values

Our Christian faith guides our vision, and we hold these values most dear:

Charity

The offerings of a dignified life are a gift we give selflessly, for no profit or reward can be greater than to live the example set by our faith.

Empathy and compassion

We are best able to serve by understanding the needs, fears, desires and hopes of those for whom we care.

Family

Families are an integral part of our care team and our practices will ensure they remain connected to their loved ones.

Social justice

We will afford care to all Albertans including those disadvantaged by the inequitable distribution of wealth and privilege; we will advocate for the forgotten, the marginalized, the sick and the elderly.

Integrity

Our positive morals and ethics are guided by our faith, and we execute our responsibilities with a fundamental passion for honesty, respect and trust among our members, workers and residents.

Accountability

Before all others, we are accountable to those for whom we care and to their families. We are also accountable to our Christian leaders and the tenets of our faith.
