

PRIVACY POLICY

Last updated: January 18, 2026

This Privacy Notice for Paradigm Test Prep (“we,” “us,” or “our”) describes how and why we may access, collect, store, use, and/or share (“process”) your personal information when you use our services (“Services”), including when you:

- Visit our website at <https://paradigmtestprep.com> or any website of ours that links to this Privacy Notice
- Engage with us in other related ways, including marketing or events

Questions or concerns?

Reading this Privacy Notice will help you understand your privacy rights and choices. We are responsible for decisions about how your personal information is processed. If you do not agree with our policies and practices, please do not use our Services.

If you still have questions or concerns, please contact us at

 paradigmtestprep@gmail.com

SUMMARY OF KEY POINTS

This summary provides key points from our Privacy Notice. You can find more details about any of these topics by clicking the link following each key point or by using our table of contents below to find the section you are looking for.

What personal information do we process?

When you visit, use, or navigate our Services, we may process personal information depending on how you interact with us and the Services, the choices you make, and the products and features you use.

Learn more about personal information you disclose to us in Section 1.

Do we process any sensitive personal information?

Some information may be considered “special” or “sensitive” in certain jurisdictions, such as racial or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, and religious beliefs. We may process sensitive personal information when necessary with your consent or as otherwise permitted by applicable law.

Learn more about sensitive information we process in Sections 2-4.

Do we collect any information from third parties?

We do not collect any information from third parties.

How do we process your information?

We process your information to provide, improve, and administer our Services, communicate with you, for security and fraud prevention, and to comply with law. We may also process your information for other purposes with your consent. We process your information only when we have a valid legal basis to do so.

Learn more about how we process your information in Section 2.

In what situations and with which parties do we share personal information?

We may share information in specific situations and with specific categories of third parties. Learn more about when and with whom we share your personal information in Section 4.

What are your rights?

Depending on your geographic location, applicable privacy law may give you certain rights regarding your personal information.

Learn more about your privacy rights in Section 8.

How do you exercise your rights?

The easiest way to exercise your rights is by submitting a data subject access request, or by contacting us. We will consider and act upon any request in accordance with applicable data protection laws.

1. WHAT INFORMATION DO WE COLLECT?

Personal information you disclose to us.

In Short: We collect personal information that you provide to us.

We collect personal information that you voluntarily provide to us when you express an interest in obtaining information about us or our products and Services, when you participate in activities on the Services, or otherwise when you contact us.

Personal Information Provided by You.

The personal information we collect depends on the context of your interactions with us and the Services, the choices you make, and the products and features you use. The personal information we collect may include:

- names
- phone numbers
- email addresses
- billing addresses
- debit/credit card numbers
- mailing addresses
- contact preferences

Sensitive Information

Sensitive Information. When necessary, with your consent or as otherwise permitted by applicable law, we process the following categories of sensitive information:

- student data

Payment Data.

We may collect data necessary to process your payment if you choose to make purchases, such as your payment instrument number and the security code associated with your payment instrument. All payment data is handled and stored by GoDaddy. You may find their privacy notice here:

- <https://www.godaddy.com/legal/agreements/privacy-policy>

All personal information that you provide to us must be true, complete, and accurate, and you must notify us of any changes to such personal information.

Information automatically collected

In Short: Some information — such as your Internet Protocol (IP) address and/or browser and device characteristics — is collected automatically when you visit our Services.

We automatically collect certain information when you visit, use, or navigate the Services. This information does not reveal your specific identity (like your name or contact information) but may include device and usage information, such as your IP address, browser and device characteristics, operating system, language preferences, referring URLs, device name, country, location, information about how and when you use our Services, and other technical information. This information is primarily needed to maintain the security and operation of our Services, and for our internal analytics and reporting purposes.

Like many businesses, we also collect information through cookies and similar technologies.

The information we collect includes:

- Log and Usage Data. Log and usage data is service-related, diagnostic, usage, and performance information our servers automatically collect when you access or use our Services and which we record in log files. Depending on how you interact with us, this log data may include your IP address, device information, browser type, and settings and information about your activity in the Services (such as date/time stamps, pages and files viewed, searches, and other actions you take such as which features you use), device event information (such as system activity, error reports (sometimes called “crash dumps”), and hardware settings).

- Device Data. We collect device data such as information about your computer, phone, tablet, or other device you use to access the Services. Depending on the device used, this device data may include your IP address (or proxy server), device and application identification numbers, location, browser type, hardware model, Internet service provider and/or mobile carrier, operating system, and system configuration information.

- Location Data. We collect location data such as information about your device's location, which can be either precise or imprecise. How much information we collect depends on the type and settings of the device you use to access the Services. For example, we may use GPS and other technologies to collect geolocation data that tells us your current location (based on your IP address). You can opt out by refusing access to the information or by disabling your device's Location setting. However, if you opt out, you may not be able to use certain aspects of the Services.

2. HOW DO WE PROCESS YOUR INFORMATION?

In Short: We process your information to provide, improve, and administer our Services, communicate with you, for security and fraud prevention, and to comply with law. We process personal information for the purposes listed below. We may also process your information for other purposes only with your prior explicit consent.

We process your personal information for a variety of reasons, depending on how you interact with our Services, including:

- To deliver and facilitate delivery of services to the user. We may process your information to provide you with the requested service.

- To respond to user inquiries/offer support to users. We may process your information to respond to your inquiries and solve any potential issues you might have with the requested service.
- To identify usage trends. We may process information about how you use our Services to better understand how they are being used so we can improve them.
- To save or protect an individual's vital interest. We may process your information when necessary to save or protect an individual's vital interest, such as to prevent harm.

3. WHAT LEGAL BASES DO WE RELY ON TO PROCESS YOUR INFORMATION?

In Short: We only process your personal information when we believe it is necessary and we have a valid legal reason (legal basis) to do so under applicable law — such as with your consent, to comply with laws, to provide services to enter into or fulfill our contractual obligations, to protect your rights, or to fulfill our legitimate business interests.

If you are located in the EU or UK, this section applies to you.

The GDPR and UK GDPR require us to explain the valid legal bases we rely on to process your personal information. We may rely on the following legal bases:

- Consent. We may process your information if you have given us permission (consent) to use your personal information for a specific purpose. You can withdraw your consent at any time. Learn more about withdrawing your consent.
- Performance of a Contract. We may process your personal information when we believe it is necessary to fulfill our contractual obligations to you, including providing our Services or at your request prior to entering into a contract with you.
- Legitimate Interests. We may process your information when we believe it is reasonably necessary to achieve our legitimate business interests and those interests do not outweigh your interests and fundamental rights and freedoms. For example, we may process your personal information to:
 - Analyze how our Services are used so we can improve them and engage and retain users.
 - Legal Obligations. We may process your information where we believe it is necessary for compliance with our legal obligations, such as to cooperate with law enforcement or a regulatory agency, exercise or defend our legal rights, or disclose your information as evidence in litigation.
 - Vital Interests. We may process your information where we believe it is necessary to protect your vital interests or the vital interests of a third party, such as situations involving potential threats to anyone's safety.

If you are located in Canada, this section applies to you.

We may process your information if you have given us specific permission (express consent) to use your personal information for a specific purpose, or in situations where your permission can be inferred (implied consent). You can withdraw your consent at any time.

In some exceptional cases, we may be legally permitted under applicable law to process your information without your consent, including for example:

- If collection is clearly in the interests of an individual and consent cannot be obtained in a timely way
- For investigations and fraud detection and prevention
- For business transactions provided certain conditions are met

- If it is contained in a witness statement and the collection is necessary to assess, process, or settle an insurance claim
 - For identifying injured, ill, or deceased persons and communicating with next of kin
 - If we have reasonable grounds to believe an individual has been, is, or may be a victim of financial abuse
 - If it is reasonable to expect collection and use with consent would compromise the availability or accuracy of the information, and the collection is reasonable for investigating a breach of an agreement or a contravention of Canadian/provincial laws
 - If disclosure is required to comply with a subpoena, warrant, court order, or rules of court relating to the production of records
 - If it was produced by an individual in the course of employment, business, or profession and collection is consistent with the purposes for which it was produced
 - If collection is solely for journalistic, artistic, or literary purposes
 - If the information is publicly available and specified by regulations
 - We may disclose de-identified information for approved research or statistics projects, subject to ethics oversight and confidentiality commitments

4. WHEN AND WITH WHOM DO WE SHARE YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

In Short: We may share information in specific situations described in this section and/or with the following categories of third parties.

Vendors, Consultants, and Other Third-Party Service Providers

We may share your data with third-party vendors, service providers, contractors, or agents (“third parties”) who perform services for us or on our behalf and require access to such information to do that work.

We have contracts in place with our third parties designed to help safeguard your personal information. This means they cannot do anything with your personal information unless we have instructed them to do it. They also will not share your personal information with any organization apart from us, and they commit to protect the data they hold on our behalf and retain it for the period we instruct.

The categories of third parties we may share personal information with include:

- Data Analytics Services
- Performance Monitoring Tools
- Sales & Marketing Tools
- Social Networks
- Website Hosting Service Providers
- Retargeting Platforms

We may also need to share your personal information in the following situations:

- Business Transfers. We may share or transfer your information in connection with, or during negotiations of, any merger, sale of company assets, financing, or acquisition of all or a portion of our business to another company.
- When we use Google Maps Platform APIs. We may share your information with certain Google Maps Platform APIs (e.g., Google Maps API, Places API). Google Maps uses GPS, Wi-Fi, and cell towers to estimate your location. GPS is accurate to about 20 meters, while Wi-Fi and cell towers help improve accuracy when GPS signals are weak, like indoors. This data helps Google Maps provide directions, but it is not always perfectly precise.

We obtain and store on your device (“cache”) your location. You may revoke your consent at any time by contacting us using the contact details provided at the end of this document.

5. DO WE USE COOKIES AND OTHER TRACKING TECHNOLOGIES?

In Short: We may use cookies and other tracking technologies to collect and store your information.

We may use cookies and similar tracking technologies (like web beacons and pixels) to gather information when you interact with our Services. Some online tracking technologies help us maintain the security of our Services, prevent crashes, fix bugs, save your preferences, and assist with basic site functions.

We also permit third parties and service providers to use online tracking technologies on our Services for analytics and advertising, including to help manage and display advertisements, to tailor advertisements to your interests, or to send abandoned shopping cart reminders (depending on your communication preferences). These third parties and service providers use their technology to provide advertising about products and services tailored to your interests, which may appear either on our Services or on other websites.

To the extent these online tracking technologies are deemed to be a “sale”/“sharing” (including targeted advertising, as defined under applicable laws) under applicable US state laws, you can opt out by submitting a request as described under:

DO UNITED STATES RESIDENTS HAVE SPECIFIC PRIVACY RIGHTS?

Specific information about how we use these technologies and how you can refuse certain cookies is set out in our Cookie Notice.

Google Analytics

We may share your information with Google Analytics to track and analyze the use of the Services. To opt out of being tracked by Google Analytics across the Services, visit:

- <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>

For more information on Google’s privacy practices, please visit the Google Privacy & Terms page:

- <https://policies.google.com/privacy>

6. HOW LONG DO WE KEEP YOUR INFORMATION?

In Short: We keep your information for as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes outlined in this Privacy Notice unless otherwise required by law.

We will only keep your personal information for as long as it is necessary for the purposes set out in this Privacy Notice, unless a longer retention period is required or permitted by law (such as tax, accounting, or other legal requirements).

When we have no ongoing legitimate business need to process your personal information, we will either delete or anonymize such information, or, if this is not possible (for example, because your personal information has been stored in backup archives), then we will securely store your personal information and isolate it from further processing until deletion is possible.

7. DO WE COLLECT INFORMATION FROM MINORS?

In Short: We do not knowingly collect data from or market to children under 18 years of age, or the equivalent age as specified by law in your jurisdiction.

We do not knowingly collect, solicit data from, or market to children under 18 years of age, or the equivalent age as specified by law in your jurisdiction, nor do we knowingly sell such personal information.

By using the Services, you represent that you are at least 18 years of age, or the equivalent age as specified by law in your jurisdiction, or that you are the parent or guardian of such a minor and consent to such minor dependent's use of the Services.

If we learn that personal information from users under 18 years of age, or the equivalent age as specified by law in your jurisdiction, has been collected, we will deactivate the account and take reasonable measures to promptly delete such data from our records.

If you become aware of any data we may have collected from children under age 18, or the equivalent age as specified by law in your jurisdiction, please contact us at

 paradigmtestprep@gmail.com

8. WHAT ARE YOUR PRIVACY RIGHTS?

In Short: Depending on your state of residence in the United States or in certain regions—such as the European Economic Area (EEA), United Kingdom (UK), Switzerland, and Canada—you have rights that allow you greater access to and control over your personal information. You may review, change, or terminate your account at any time, depending on your country, province, or state of residence.

In some regions (such as the EEA, UK, Switzerland, and Canada), you have certain rights under applicable data protection laws. These may include the right to:

- Request access to and obtain a copy of your personal information
- Request rectification or erasure of your personal information
- Restrict the processing of your personal information
- Request data portability, where applicable
- Not be subject to automated decision-making

If a decision that produces legal or similarly significant effects is made solely by automated means, we will inform you, explain the main factors involved, and offer a simple way to request human review.

In certain circumstances, you may also have the right to object to the processing of your personal information. You can make such a request by contacting us using the details provided in the section How Can You Contact Us About This Notice? below.

We will consider and act upon any request in accordance with applicable data protection laws.

If you are located in the EEA or the UK and believe we are unlawfully processing your personal information, you also have the right to lodge a complaint with your:

- Member State data protection authority, or
- UK data protection authority

If you are located in Switzerland, you may contact the Federal Data Protection and Information Commissioner.

Withdrawing Your Consent

If we are relying on your consent to process your personal information (which may be express and/or implied consent depending on applicable law), you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time.

You can withdraw your consent by contacting us using the details provided in the section How Can You Contact Us About This Notice? below.

Please note that withdrawing consent will not affect the lawfulness of processing conducted before its withdrawal, nor—where permitted by law—will it affect processing carried out on lawful grounds other than consent.

Opting Out of Marketing and Promotional Communications

You can unsubscribe from our marketing and promotional communications at any time by contacting us using the details provided in the section How Can You Contact Us About This Notice? below.

Once you opt out, you will be removed from our marketing lists. However, we may still communicate with you for non-marketing purposes, such as:

- Sending service-related messages necessary for account administration
- Responding to service requests
- Other essential operational communications

Cookies and Similar Technologies

Most web browsers are set to accept cookies by default. If you prefer, you can usually choose to remove or reject cookies through your browser settings. Please note that removing or rejecting cookies may affect certain features or services of our Services.

If you have questions or comments about your privacy rights, you may contact us at:

 paradigmtestprep@gmail.com

9. CONTROLS FOR DO-NOT-TRACK FEATURES

Most web browsers and some mobile operating systems and mobile applications include a Do-Not-Track (“DNT”) feature or setting that you can activate to signal your privacy preference not to have data about your online browsing activities monitored and collected.

At this time, there is no uniform technology standard for recognizing and implementing DNT signals. As a result, we do not currently respond to DNT browser signals or any other mechanism that automatically communicates your choice not to be tracked online. If a standard for online tracking is adopted in the future that we are required to follow, we will inform you of that practice in a revised version of this Privacy Notice.

Got it — this chunk is Section 10 and it's long, but it converts cleanly. Below is a Markdown version with:

- all , Termly <bdt> placeholders, and editor artifacts removed
- headings preserved
- links preserved
- the table rebuilt in readable Markdown (with the “Collected” values kept where your HTML clearly shows them; a few rows were blank in the snippet, so I've marked those as Not specified)

10. DO UNITED STATES RESIDENTS HAVE SPECIFIC PRIVACY RIGHTS?

In Short: If you are a resident of California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Oregon, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, or Virginia, you may have the right to request access to and receive details about the personal information we maintain about you and how we have processed it, correct inaccuracies, get a copy of, or delete your personal information. You may also have the right to withdraw your consent to our processing of your personal information. These rights may be limited in some circumstances by applicable law. More information is provided below.

Categories of Personal Information We Collect

The table below shows the categories of personal information we have collected in the past twelve (12) months. The table includes illustrative examples of each category and does not reflect the personal information we collect from you. Sources of Personal Information

Learn more about the sources of personal information we collect in What Information Do We Collect.

How We Use and Share Personal Information

Learn more about how we use your personal information in How Do We Process Your Information.

Will your information be shared with anyone else?

We may disclose your personal information with our service providers pursuant to a written contract between us and each service provider. Learn more in When and With Whom Do We Share Your Personal Information.

We may use your personal information for our own business purposes, such as undertaking internal research for technological development and demonstration. This is not considered “selling” of your personal information.

We have not sold or shared any personal information to third parties for a business or commercial purpose in the preceding twelve (12) months.

We have disclosed the following categories of personal information to third parties for a business or commercial purpose in the preceding twelve (12) months:

- Category A. Identifiers
- Category C. Characteristics of protected classifications under state or federal law
- Category F. Internet or other electronic network activity information
- Category G. Geolocation data

The categories of third parties to whom we disclosed personal information for a business or commercial purpose are described in When and With Whom Do We Share Your Personal Information?.

Your Rights

You have rights under certain US state data protection laws. However, these rights are not absolute, and in certain cases, we may decline your request as permitted by law. These rights include:

- Right to know whether or not we are processing your personal data
- Right to access your personal data
- Right to correct inaccuracies in your personal data
- Right to request deletion of your personal data
- Right to obtain a copy of the personal data you previously shared with us
- Right to non-discrimination for exercising your rights
- Right to opt out of processing of your personal data for targeted advertising (or “sharing” under California law), the sale of personal data, or profiling in furtherance of decisions that produce legal or similarly significant effects (“profiling”)

Depending on the state where you live, you may also have the following rights:

- Right to access the categories of personal data being processed (as permitted by applicable law, including Minnesota)

- Right to obtain a list of the categories of third parties to which we have disclosed personal data (as permitted by applicable law, including California, Delaware, and Maryland)
 - Right to obtain a list of specific third parties to which we have disclosed personal data (as permitted by applicable law, including Minnesota and Oregon)
 - Right to obtain a list of third parties to which we have sold personal data (as permitted by applicable law, including Connecticut)
 - Right to review, understand, question, and (depending on where you live) correct how personal data has been profiled (as permitted by applicable law, including Connecticut and Minnesota)
 - Right to limit use and disclosure of sensitive personal data (as permitted by applicable law, including California)
 - Right to opt out of the collection of sensitive data and personal data collected through operation of a voice or facial recognition feature (as permitted by applicable law, including Florida)

How to Exercise Your Rights

To exercise these rights, you can contact us by:

- Emailing us at paradigmtestprep@gmail.com
- Referring to the contact details at the bottom of this document

Under certain US state data protection laws, you can designate an authorized agent to make a request on your behalf. We may deny a request from an authorized agent that does not submit proof that they have been validly authorized to act on your behalf in accordance with applicable laws.

Request Verification

Upon receiving your request, we will need to verify your identity to determine you are the same person about whom we have information in our system. We will only use personal information provided in your request to verify your identity or authority to make the request. If we cannot verify your identity from the information we already maintain, we may request additional information for verification and for security or fraud-prevention purposes.

If you submit a request through an authorized agent, we may need additional information to verify your identity before processing your request. The agent may also be required to provide written and signed permission from you to submit the request on your behalf.

Appeals

Under certain US state data protection laws, if we decline to take action regarding your request, you may appeal our decision by emailing us at paradigmtestprep@gmail.com. We will inform you in writing of any action taken or not taken in response to the appeal, including an explanation of the reasons for the decision. If your appeal is denied, you may submit a complaint to your state attorney general.

California “Shine The Light” Law

California Civil Code Section 1798.83 (the “Shine The Light” law) permits California residents to request and obtain from us, once per year and free of charge, information about categories of personal information (if any) disclosed to third parties for direct marketing purposes and the names and addresses of those third parties with which we shared personal information in the immediately preceding calendar year.

If you are a California resident and would like to make such a request, please submit your request in writing using the contact details provided in How Can You Contact Us About This Notice?.

11. DO WE MAKE UPDATES TO THIS NOTICE?

In Short: Yes, we will update this notice as necessary to stay compliant with relevant laws.

We may update this Privacy Notice from time to time. The updated version will be indicated by an updated “Revised” date at the top of this Privacy Notice. If we make material changes to this Privacy Notice, we may notify you either by prominently posting a notice of such changes or by directly sending you a notification. We encourage you to review this Privacy Notice frequently to stay informed about how we are protecting your information.

12. HOW CAN YOU CONTACT US ABOUT THIS NOTICE?

If you have questions or comments about this notice, you may contact us by email or by post at:

Email:
