

I don't know how
Don't know when
I ran out of f*cks to give
I just know
That it happened
I guess you're gonna have to deal with it

Oh, I don't need to take a stand
I won't make a scene about it
I'm simply just communicating
For you stop wasting my time

So don't you blame me anymore
For ignoring you
Now consider that you've been warned
Told you I ran out of f*cks to give

But when I think about it
I don't care how it makes you feel
Oh, I'm just tryin' to keep myself
From falling again for your promises

So you can deal
With your own feelings
'Cause I've got plenty to deal with here
What was at first, just a step back
Turned into opening my eyes

So don't you blame me anymore
For ignoring you
Now consider that you've been warned
Told you I ran out of f*cks to give

I'm choosing my own path
I'm gonna make it right
I know what's on your mind
But I ain't coming back
Thought you should know
Well now you know!

So don't you blame me anymore
For ignoring you
Now consider that you've been warned
Oh, I ran out of f*cks to give

So don't you blame me anymore
For ignoring you
Now consider that you've been warned
Told you I ran out of f*cks to give

(I ran out)
So don't you blame me anymore
(Don't you blame me, anymore)
For ignoring you
now consider that you've been warned
(You've been warned)
I ran out of f*cks to give
