

Artist bank

About the Bank

The artist bank consists of artists using any medium that we can take a picture of and share with others. We include those who do murals and sculpture because, even though they aren't 'book' size, we can easily take photographs of them and share the art. We love photos and welcome them, as well.

The purpose

The purpose of the GBB Artist Bank is to link artists with authors in such a way that both will compliment each other as they share their gifts.

Appreciate Artists

Many artists are not appreciated by anyone other than their immediate family. GBB offers a free avenue to allow others to view your pieces. We will display pieces {on a rotating basis} on our main web site, free of charge, for the purpose of allowing others to enjoy your work.

Copyright Protection

If your art is not digitally protected, we can help. We will not display, digitally, any art that is not copyrighted. It is up to the artist to Register the Art with the Copyright Office of the United States. We can help direct you if you would like to do this. It is important that your copyright be secured before the piece is published so that you will receive full credit for the work.

Copyrights

The artist maintains copyright authority until/unless it is passed on to another party, and GBB will strive to maintain his/her copyright. GBB has no right to reproduce the art via paper or electronically except by permission of the artist on a piece per piece basis.

Any art which the artist maintains the copyright has the authority to sell as many prints or like prints as he wants without hesitation from GBB or the author who has purchased the print and used it in his/her book. The artist also maintains the subsidiary rights if the author does not purchase them along with the copyright.

Joining Artist and Author

An artist and author may join together to do a book through GBB. We will assist with the contracts and print the book. The royalty is split when an artist and writer come together to do a book.

Contracts

There is no charge for GBB to show your art to others.

The artist is not an employee of GBB, but a 'seller' with merchandise.

Glorybound Publishing will have contracts between artists and authors available, but it is up to the author and the artist who must work together to coordinate the outcome. The author and artist are bound to one another by their contract. We bring them together and help to coordinate the structure and balance of the book bringing it together in a timely pace
