

Glorybound Classes

We feature classes for business which target needs. Each of the classes utilizes software programs that enable the business to use the computer system and printer which they already have to publish what they are {now} ordering from printing companies.

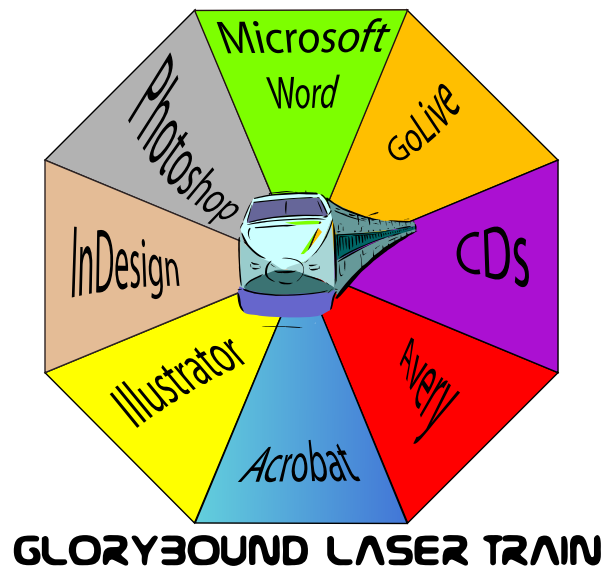

We demonstrate that, with a laser printer system and knowledge of software programs, the average business owner can print his own business cards, stationery, receipts, brochures, and books {to name a few}.

The classes are targeted for a specific purpose and the user must have the program loaded on his/her lap top and bring it with her/him to the class. For example: The business card class utilizes Avery Software. The individual must purchase the software and load it into their computer prior to the class. (There is not time provided within this class to load software. If you are unsure how to load software, then you can make an appointment with one of our graphic designers and 'Rent a designer' for an hour. He will walk you through the software.)

The classes are each about 5 1/2 hours total length. The class begins at 0900 and breaks for lunch at 1200. It resumes at 1:30 and goes until 4:00. The first half of the day is spent learning to make 'whatever' using print sets and patterns provided by the instructor.

When you return from lunch, you will be given an opportunity to insert your own company information and logo into the program.

Then, the graphic artist will give the students an opportunity to run a CD using Lightscribe. The patterns will be given to the student to take home and be able to open at any time to be able to print from the patterns. At the close of the class, there will be opportunities to print at reduced costs. We will have whatever special papers are needed for the specific class on hand.
