PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Mebunaz Software has released the Official Story Trailer for Legends of Goodness, revealing the beginning of an epic journey where humanity's last hope rises against an ancient evil determined to bring about the end of the world.

As wars continue to spread across the globe, humanity is pushed toward its greatest catastrophe. Nations collapse under famine and drought, while conflicts over water and food replace the wars that once divided civilizations. With every passing day, the world moves closer to extinction.

Hidden behind this global collapse is Whispera, a powerful demonic entity manipulating humanity from the shadows. As civilization crumbles, Whispera unleashes a vast Reptilian army, preparing to claim complete dominion over the Earth and bring humanity's final chapter to an end.

When hope appears lost, destiny intervenes.

The souls of 22 extraordinary heroes, each chosen from a different nation and remembered for their courage, wisdom, and sacrifice, are summoned from the afterlife. Entrusted with a final mission, they are given one last opportunity to unite humanity and stand against Whispera before the world is consumed forever.

The chosen heroes represent:

- Argentina
- Australia
- Austria
- Brazil
- Canada
- China
- England
- France
- Germany
- India
- Italy
- Japan
- Kenya
- Mexico
- Norway
- Poland
- Russia
- South Korea
- Spain

Together, these legendary heroes must lead humanity's resistance against Whispera and the relentless Reptilian invasion, fighting across civilizations inspired by real historical locations. Players will build civilizations, command powerful armies, and seamlessly switch into third-person combat by taking direct control of legendary heroes in the game's unique Hero Takeover system.

The Official Story Trailer offers the first look at the rich narrative universe of Legends of Goodness, introducing the fall of humanity, the rise of Whispera, and the legendary heroes whose destinies become intertwined in humanity's final battle for survival.

Legends of Goodness is an upcoming hybrid real-time strategy game for PC, developed by Mebunaz Software, and will be available on Steam.
