

It's Christmas. Ho Ho Ho.

Don't forget to leave Santa some milk and cookies on Christmas Eve!

Dairy farmers work hard every day to produce the milk that ends up in your refrigerator. The milk in your glass comes from a dairy cow! The farmers milk their cows 2-3 times a day. A dairy farmer also has to bottle feed the calves after their weaned off their mamma's.

Animals still need to eat, yes even on Christmas!

What goes in these bottles that are fed to the calves?

At first, It's milk from the mamma. Then, milk replacer mixed with water.

Be a farmer for a day by going on a virtual dairy farm tour!

What dairy cow breeds did you see?

What did you notice about the milking parlor?

How do the cows and the crops grown connect?

