

Keya J. Hatchett

SPEAKER & WHOLENESS COACH

Keya Hatchett is a single mother of two. She resides in Aurora, Colorado. However, she was born and raised in the heart of South Philadelphia. She is the second of five children. Although she stumbled through grade school, Keya obtained a bachelor's degree in Healthcare Management as well as an Associates Degree in Biblical Studies.

She currently serves as a Minister at her local church. Keya is a Wholeness Specialist, Speaker, Teacher, Author and an Encourager of the Women of God.

Having a personal experience with the power of God in her twenties, Keya has spent many years being trained, and equipped by God to be used for God. Keya has dedicated the past 4 years to teaching, assisting and equipping women to live their best life in Christ. With a creative mind and a passion for reading and writing; Keya has stepped into full time ministry, teaching women how to live and lead from the inside out. It is her honor and privilege to work one on one with women who are ready to give God an unreserved Yes!

KEYAJHATCHETT.COM

"There are many times that I am in the midst of difficulty and just listening to the daily messages gives me hope and encouragement to keep fighting the good fight." -Venesa Gonzales, Account Executive Colorado

"Everyday, I was given renewed hope. My life has changed because of what Pastor Keya has taught me. Pastor Keya has dedicated herself as a disciple of God and teaches us about HIM in the most loving and peaceful way." -Paula Becerra CLA, Colorado

KEYA.J.HATCHETT@GMAIL.COM