

Prompt of the Week Practice Sheet

The Curious Poem

Prompt: Tell a story using only questions.

Let curiosity lead the way. Ask big questions, small questions, or ones with no answers at all. Let your reader wonder with you.

Brainstorm:

- Who is asking the questions?
- What do they want to know?
- Can questions tell us more than answers?
- What if no one ever answers?

Poem Starter:

Why did the stars stop blinking last night?

Now write your poem below:

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

* Bonus Challenge: Write 5 questions that build tension can you end your poem with a question that feels like an answer?

