Ollie's Secret Scroll

A story-building adventure from The Storyteller's Treehouse

While exploring the treehouse one quiet afternoon, you notice something peeking out from behind the bark of the storytelling tree. It's a scroll — tied with twine, stamped with a tiny feather seal, and glowing ever so slightly.

You open it carefully, and it reads:

"Only the brave may follow... Your mission begins where the stars meet the leaves."

Suddenly, the wind shifts... and you know you've been chosen.

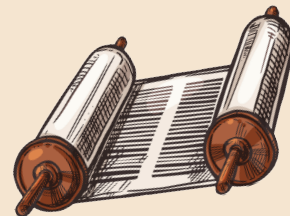

Branches of Inspiration:

- What does the rest of Ollie's scroll say?
- What is the secret mission?
- Where do you have to go, and what do you need to find?
- Will you go alone or take a friend?
- What magical challenge or creature might be waiting for you?
- What gift or lesson might you discover at the end?

Try This Sentence Starter:

"I held the scroll in my hands, and Ollie gave me a look that said... it's time."

Ollie's Tip: Courage isn't about knowing the way—it's about taking the first step.
