

This is long, but please read carefully for all Thanksgiving information!

Our online Thanksgiving store will be posted tomorrow, Sunday October 16 at 1:00pm. We are only doing online ordering again this year, and when the cart is sold out, we will not be adding more.

We are going to produce as much as we possibly can, but again, once the cart is sold out, we are NOT able to add more. Please do NOT call to place orders as those phone calls do not get returned, and we would not take an order over the phone.

If you have difficulty with computer ordering, please contact a friend to help you as we are unable to place your order for you.

We get a lot of phone calls every year from people who missed ordering and then call us saying that it's just one more pie. Please understand that while it might seem like just one more pie, many people ask, so if we made an exception for everyone who asked, we would be over capacity. The online store is carefully planned to be our full capacity.

We also want to let you know that it's not a mistake on the online store - any pie that can be bake at home, will only be sold as bake at home. That way we can accommodate many more orders.

If you are looking for an item that is not in the store, you can order for November 12 and freeze it. You would have to order that by the last week of October we reserve the right to cut off sooner if necessary

Most importantly, please be kind! 😊 We appreciate your kindness and patience as we bake entirely from scratch and only have a small (but mighty!) crew and limited oven space to produce a high volume in a very short time.

Thank you for reading this whole thing. It might seem like a harsh post, but all these policies are in place so that we can get as many orders placed as possible this year as it is our last Thanksgiving! Like chocolate, it is bittersweet!
