BIOGRAPHY

Even as a child, I found joy in transporting people to different worlds by embodying the emotions, behavior and perspectives of different characters. My love of acting & entertaining was born in my grandparents' home, where every weekend my family would gather & they'd call me into the living room to perform skits & make them laugh.

Born in Manhattan, NY & raised in Flatbush, Brooklyn, I attended Sheepshead Bay Performing Arts High School. Under the tutelage of improv/theatre professor Robin Selfridge, I majored in drama. I then trained at The Barrow Group in NYC.

My career in modeling & as a brand Spokesperson began in 2015. I've represented Karl Zimmer Menswear, PinWear Sports Apparel & Brooklyn United Ties. I've walked dozens of runways from NYC Fashion Institute "Runway 27" to "Rip the Runway", on BET.

I moved into Red Carpet Interviewing & hosting with the 2017 NYC Winter Film Award Gala & have done more than 50 red carpets & hundreds of celebrity interviews.

I was named "Face of Future African American Men" in the Black History Month edition of Heroic Magazine where I was featured alongside Tichina Arnold.

I broadened my love of cooking on two Conde Nast Epicurious shows: Ingredient Swap & 4 Levels. My joy in making people laugh was highlighted on the web series "Pigs in a Bowl" which won AFA's "Best Comedic Web Series".

My experience in film ranges widely & my resume and competency is genre diverse. I've worked on gritty thrillers, with Sundance winning directors, in documentaries & even a horror anthology that was called "Deliciously Revolting" by Film Threat.

My career took me to live TV in 2023 when I was hired to host and produce The AM Show on The LFN Television network. I developed segments for & hosted a daily 3 hour live show, completing 200+ shows with over 750 hours of unscripted content. Segments ranged from pop culture, fashion & music to current events, sports, interviews & improv. The Network broadcasts across the US, Canada and the Caribbean.

The roar of the crowd & the true joy from Musical Theatre is unparalleled. As the understudy to the lead Rick James (played by Stokley) & with numerous ensemble roles, I finished a 30-city national tour of "Superfreak: The Rick James Story" in June 2024 with a performance at the NAACP Theatre Awards Show in Hollywood.
