Update on Statewide coordination of Adult Education data tracking and reporting:

- Debra Jones and Chris Nelson from the Chancellor's Office and CDE respectively shared a mutual interest at the state-level in taking a thoughtful, comprehensive approach to data collection and reporting, including work being done on a single student identifier, as well as efforts to overcome hurdles that currently don't allow the CO and CDE to share data. Our two systems are exploring a federated data system that would allow multiple systems to upload data to a singular place that all could eventually extract data from. This is difficult work given ongoing fears about data sharing - but there is optimism that now is the time to overcome some of these challenges
- The CO and CDE also announced the release of the $25M AEBG Data and Accountability Allocations leading to discussion about how we might collectively leverage those funds in the Bay Region
- The group called for a "roll-call" as to which Consortia remain interested in co-investing in a Bay Region AE Data Tracking Tool, confirming that all 12 Consortia present are strongly committed to exploring this idea further
- A subgroup was established to think through next steps accordingly. BACCC is convening the subgroup on May 9

Update on West Ed data tracking/reporting pilot: According to Joel, this has been put on hold until the Super Bay Area region decides what to do with a pilot.

Next Meeting: Thursday, July 28th 1-2pm
