Assessment fees include clinical interview, administration and scoring of assessment measures, preparation of a written report, and a feedback appointment.

Assessment fees do not include additional assessment components not included in the quoted assessment, review of extensive clinical records, attendance at external meetings, or professional time arising from information provided after the assessment has commenced, unless specifically quoted. Autism and ADHD assessments do not include assessment of intellectual capability or tests of academic strengths and weaknesses. If these tests are required, please ask for a revised quote.

If previous assessments, diagnoses or reports exist (including psychology, speech pathology, occupational therapy, paediatric, psychiatric, cognitive, or educational assessments), these should be disclosed before the assessment process commences. Reviewing this information allows us to determine whether the requested assessment is appropriate, identify any additional assessment requirements, and confirm whether the quoted fee remains suitable for the complexity of the presentation. Where additional reports or extensive records are provided or disclosed after the assessment has commenced, additional professional fees may be discussed before they are incurred.

The quoted assessment fee includes one opportunity to request corrections to factual inaccuracies relevant to the assessment. Clients are encouraged to review the report in full before submitting any requested corrections. Corrections are limited to factual information that was available at the time the report was completed.

Please enquire for assessments that are not listed.
