Please note: Richard O'Brien's The Rocky Horror is rated R and contains adult content and language. Some characters are on stage partially clothed, and some portray sexualized choreography. QTC places great importance on the safety of its participants, who must be 21 years of age or older at the time of the auditions. Age verification may be required. This is a full audience participation show with callbacks from the audience, approved prop bags and pre-show performance and audience costume contests at every show. You must be comfortable in close interaction with people, in revealing clothing/underwear and sexual situations.

Non-emergency conflicts will not be excused and may affect participation in the show. Once you have accepted a role, we expect that you will finish all scheduled rehearsals and performances.

Queer Theatre Company, a non-profit 501(c)(3) corporation, requests a show participation fee of $150, due by the first rehearsal. As a newly-formed company running shows on a minimal budget, a show fee is a simple cash injection that will get the show up and running. The initial cost of a musical is largely in securing the rights, which can be in the thousands. This can leave a new or low-budget company struggling to cover smaller expenses during rehearsals, like venue hire. This initial funding can make a big difference in getting traction in the early stages of a production. Please be assured that QTC is an all-volunteer company and that all monies go directly back into the production/company. If cast, there is an expectation that you will assist/volunteer in promotion of the show by selling tickets, posting social media, helping behind the scenes and being a positive spokesperson for the show and company.
