Where's Your Tree? Founded in 2019 by Pamela Booker, is an advocate and partner for urban green initiatives and funding opportunities that affirm a sustainable future for the planet and Black and Brown lives.

Our Vision: To create forums and funding opportunities that affirm and improve the ways of being in the world for artists, healers, urban food growers and educators.

We are excited to announce an outreach initiative The Journey Womxn Fund: Caregivers Program Retreats \(CPR\). Currently, we are offering two (2) $200 micro-grants to support attendance at a retreat, workshop, or conference in our role as caretakers of the earth and each other and reinforces sustainability as a way of life. Rural settings will be prioritized, but urban events will be considered if they align with the program's intentions. The program's primary objective is to identify spaces for urban-based caregivers to rest, recharge, and gain new perspectives while connecting with nature and exploring creative practice.

Eligibility: Open to mid- and late-career BIPOC womxn who are New Jersey residents and caregivers. (These funds can be used anywhere in the US.) While we honor parenting in context with “caregiving,” this grant focuses on those employed as professional healthcare providers/Aides or serve as full-time at-home caregivers for the elderly or disabled, and others such as community-based activists. We support folks who are juggling care work and as a result, are neglecting their creative goals, educational and professional development, health and wellness, and self-discovery.

How to Use the Grant Award: Funds will be released upon confirmation of your registration. The grant may be used to cover expenses such as registration fees, housing, travel and meals. We also ask that you document your retreat through video, photos, or other media sources and provide a short report for administrative purposes.

Note: While we acknowledge the role of religion in personal well-being, we do not support church-based retreats. Our goal is to broadly support your attendance at inclusive and secular spaces that foster learning, creativity, healing, and that embrace and welcome all LGBTQ-identified individuals. We also do not support political party-affiliated conventions.
