THE WINE PROGRAM

WHERE EXCELLENCE MEETS EXPERIENCE

The Belmont wine program is a natural extension of our kitchen's philosophy: intention, craftsmanship, and an unwavering respect for the ingredient. This list was built not to impress with labels alone, but to tell a story — of terroir, heritage, and winemaker vision. Every bottle earns its place, whether a benchmark Champagne, a Burgundy with history in its soil, or a small-production Napa cabernet made with conviction, and each is chosen to elevate the meal without overshadowing it.

Food and wine are not separate luxuries here. They are a dialogue.

The Reserve list is the part of the cellar we buy on release and then leave alone. Prestige-cuvée Champagne, premier and grand cru Burgundy, Barolo and Brunello from traditional houses, classified-growth Bordeaux, and single-hillside Napa cabernet — bottles that arrive a few cases at a time and are held until they drink the way they were built to. Large format closes the section: magnums age more slowly than a standard bottle, and they are great for larger group gatherings.

The Wine List follows the way a meal moves: Champagne and sparkling, rosé and whites, then reds. Each grape opens with a note on how it tends to taste, then gathers its wines by appellation — Napa Valley, Sonoma County, Burgundy, Piedmont — so a guest can start from a grape they know and find the village behind it. Our wine team is constantly meeting with producers to select the right wines for our food.

IN CONVERSATION

CHEF ALESSANDRO STRATTA

On what he looks for when food meets a bottle

WHAT DO YOU LOOK FOR WHEN YOU PAIR A WINE WITH YOUR FOOD?

Balance before power. I cook with restraint — a sauce reduced rather than thickened, seasoning that lets the ingredient speak — and the wine has to do the same. Acidity is the hinge. It resets the palate between bites so the last one tastes like the first.

WHERE DID YOUR PALATE COME FROM?

France, mostly, and the kitchens I worked in across Europe. In those rooms the wine list was part of the cooking, not an afterthought. You learn quickly that Champagne cuts richness better than lemon, and that a village Burgundy will tell you how to season the dish.

WHICH REGIONS DO YOU RETURN TO?

Champagne, Burgundy in both colors, the northern Rhône and Piedmont. They share a discipline: cool sites, low yields, and producers who let the vintage show rather than sanding it down.

AND A PAIRING YOU ALWAYS COME BACK TO?

Halibut with white Burgundy. Beef with northern Rhône syrah, or a Napa cabernet with a few years on it. Truffle season belongs to aged nebbiolo. If a guest is unsure, tell us what you are eating and the last bottle you loved — that is usually all our team needs.
