

Hello, I'm

Beth Connor

AUTHOR

Behind the Curtain

Beth Connor is a weaver of tales, captivated by writing and fueled by a love for storytelling. She is always searching for new ways to expand her knowledge and understanding of the world. She has a keen eye for detail and a remarkable ability to create vivid, dynamic settings that resonate with her audience.

In addition to her passion for writing, Beth also hosts the short story podcast "Crossroads Cantina," where she explores various narratives, delving into the complexities of life and the human experience through the medium of short stories. Her podcast has become a platform for both listeners and storytellers alike, showcasing her dedication to the craft of storytelling.

She resides in the Pacific Northwest with her husband, two children, and canine companions, who bring her boundless inspiration and delight.

Acclaim

"Ominously atmospheric in tone, Connor has the knack of pitching her fantasy stories perfectly for younger teenage readers whilst maintaining the wonderfully disconcerting aura and tension throughout."

E.M. Duffield-Fuller author of Felgrim

"As the veil lifts away from the mysteries of Connor's wonderful feature follow-up, readers will be treated to some of the most endearing relationships in fantasy. Prodigy of Flame is at times both cozy and chaotic, and it is that calculated juxtaposition that makes the story a breezy read, even with its considerable content."

Michael DeAngelo author of the Tellest Series
