Worship Celebration

*“Ordinary People Doing Extra Ordinary Things In Ordinary Times”
Philippians 3:14*

Praise and Worship

Doxology

Praise God from whom all blessings flow; Praise Him all creatures here below; Praise Him above ye heavenly host, Praise Father Son and Holy Ghost. Amen.

Call To Celebration

Minister: I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord, our feet shall stand within thy gates, O Jerusalem. (Psalm 122:1)

People: For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand. I would rather be a door-keeper in the house of my God than to dwell in the tents of wickedness. (Psalm 84:10)

Minister: Because of the house of the Lord our God, I will seek thy good. (Psalm 122:9)

People: Those that be planted in the house of the Lord, shall flourish in the courts of our God. (Psalm 92:13)

Minister: Blessed are they that dwell in thy house, Lord, I have loved thy habitation, the place where thy honor dwelleth. (Psalm 84:4)

People: For the Lord is in His holy temple, let all the earth keep silence before Him. (Habakkuk 2:20)

Minister: Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength and my Redeemer. (Psalm 19:14)

People: O sing unto the Lord a new song, for He has done marvelous things. Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, and all the earth sing His praises. (Psalm 98:1,4)

Opening Hymn:

Scripture Lesson: Acts 12: 1-11

From All That Dwell Below The Skies

From all that dwell below the skies, Let the Creator's praise arise. Let the Redeemer's name be sung. Through every land by every tongue.

The Contemporary Decalogue:

Leader: Let us express our commitment to keep God's law.

People: God of our salvation, only you are God. We will make no idols. We will not invoke with malice Your name, O God. We will remember the Sabbath Day and keep it holy. We will honor our father and our mother. We will not commit murder. We will not commit adultery. We will not steal. We will not bear false witness. We will not covet anything that belongs to our neighbor.

People: (Singing) Lord have mercy upon us and incline our hearts to keep this law. My soul be on thy guard, ten thousand foes arise. A host of sins are pressing hard to draw me from thy side

Leader: Jesus said: You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment.

People: (Singing) Lord have mercy upon us, and incline our hearts to keep this law.

Leader: Thou shall not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh His name in vain.

People: Jesus also challenged us with a sacred commandment which is like the first: We shall love our neighbor as our self! On these two commandments depend all the law and the prophets.

(Decalogue by Bishop Jeffery Leath).

The GLORIA PATRI

All: (Singing) Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost; as it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Invitation To Christian Discipleship

Affirmation of Faith/Apostle's Creed

I believe in God, the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth, and in Jesus Christ His only son our Lord who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead, and buried. The third day He arose from the dead; He ascended into heaven and sits at the right hand of God the Father Almighty, from thence He shall come to judge the quick and the dead. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Church universal, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body and the life everlasting. Amen.

The Evangelistic Corner

The Way Of Salvation

- All have sinned (Romans 3:23).
- The wages of sin is death (Romans 6:23).
- Christ died for our sins (Romans 5:8).
- If we confess and believe that God raised Jesus from the dead we shall be saved (Romans 10 :9-10).

Sinners Prayer

Jesus I know that I am a sinner and I ask for Your forgiveness. I believe You died for my sins and rose from the dead.

I turn from my sins and invite you to come into my heart and my life. I want to trust You and follow You as my Lord and Savior. In Your name, Amen

Be As An Eagle

Did you know that an eagle knows when a storm is approaching long before it breaks?

The eagle will fly to a higher spot and wait for the winds to come. When the storm hits, the eagle sets its wings so that the wind will pick it up and lift it above the storm. While the storm rages below, the eagle is soaring high above it. The eagle does not escape the storm, it simply uses the storm to lift it higher.

The eagle rises on the winds that bring the storm. When the storm of life come upon us, and all of us have experienced that at one time, we can rise above by setting our minds and beliefs toward God. The storms do not over come us. We must allow God's power to lift us above them.

God enables us to ride the winds of the storm that brings sickness, tragedy, failure and disappointment in our lives. We can soar above those storms. Remember, it is not the burdens of life that weigh us down, it is how we handle the situation at hand.

The Bible says, "But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint". Isaiah 40:31

Working From Home Is Still Working. Take Your Vacation.

For those privileged enough to do so, staying at home during the coronavirus pandemic also means working from home. Whether it's in a dedicated room, on a bed with pillows for a desk, or at a coffee table with an extension cord, we're essentially living in our workplace. Add to the mix children, spouses or partners and pets, all with their own needs and anxieties and there's no defining line between where we live and where we earn a living.

Yet it doesn't matter whether you're wearing a suit or sweatpants, working from home is still work. Take your vacation!

For those working from home, the length of the average workday in the United States has jumped a stunning 40%, from 8 hours to 11 hours a day according to NordVPN, a company that specializes in digital privacy. That's the greatest increase worldwide since stay-at-home orders became the norm. On average the at home work day can start 2 hours earlier.

When commuting now means moving from one room to another – if at all - that extra time is usually filled with work. However grounding it may seem, it can also be an unexpected grind.

If you have paid vacation time, you should count your blessings. Nearly 25% of workers in America have no compensated time off, according to the Center for Economic and Policy Research (CEPR). Here vacation time is negotiated and regarded as a perk bequeathed by employers.

Even those with paid vacation time rarely take all of it. In a 2019 report, CEPR called the United States “No-vacation nation”. According to the US Travel Association, workers left 768 million days of paid time off unused in 2018, with more than 55% of Americans neglecting to use all of their vacation time.

This fixation with work comes with consequences. A WebMD survey found that 40% of respondents said they suffered from work-related stress; 25% named work as their leading cause of stress. It's already well documented that stress has an impact on our physical and mental health. And that was before coronavirus upended every aspect of our lives.

In 5 weeks about 26 million people have filed unemployment claims. If workers generally felt uncomfortable about taking vacation before, those who still have jobs may feel that taking a break now, even when they are entitled it is foolhardy and indulgent.

With many of us sheltering at home during this pandemic, vacation is likely the last thing on our minds. Time away from work is necessary self-care. Any planned break affords us a period of rejuvenation and that replenishment can lead to more productivity back on the job. It is nourishment for our souls, professionally as well as personally. Taking a break can also alleviate the inevitable burnout some are likely experiencing.

For the duration of this public health crisis, many employers will get more, much of it unpaid, from their workers. We are at home, but this is not a sabbatical. Don't leave your vacations on the table. You've worked for it and it is owed to you. In these difficult and disorienting times, a vacation taken is not a vacation wasted.

Where's My Check?

The U.S. Department of the Treasury and the IRS have launched two online tools to try and answer that question.

If you filed your 2018 or 2019 taxes: The "Get My Payment" web page allows taxpayers who filed their tax return in 2018 or 2019 to track the status of their payment, and to provide direct deposit banking information if the IRS does not have it. If you receive an error message or have questions, check the IRS Economic Impact Payment Information Center for Frequently Asked Questions. Please note that due to a high volume of visitors, the website may be slow to load.

If IRS does not have your bank information, you should expect to receive a paper check in the mail, though generating those payments will take several weeks. The "GetMyPayment" page should be able to tell you whether a check is being mailed to you. The Washington Post reports that millions of physical checks may be delayed because the Treasury Department has ordered President Trump's name be printed on each check.

OFFICIAL CITY GUIDANCE

Angelenos should wear non-medical face coverings when in public

Face coverings can be made using a scarf or extra cloth, and should be used in addition to physical distancing. Medical-grade and N95 masks are reserved for medical workers and first responders.

After many weeks of being told not to bother wearing face masks to prevent the spread of COVID-19, the non-symptomatic public is being instructed by local officials to wear coverings over their noses and mouths when performing essential tasks outside their homes. (Not medical grade masks-front-line workers need those.)

Mayor Eric Garcetti announced the measure in his daily COVID-19 update on April 1, 2020 and as of Friday, April 10, 2020 mandated that a mask/nose and mouth covering must be worn outside of your residence. Especially whenever entering an establishment that is open for business. If you are not wearing a mask/nose and mouth covering, the business has the right to refuse your entry.

People with sewing machines are churning out masks you can buy online, but there are also plenty of DIY ways to make one even if you don't know from a bobbin. One requires only a bandana and two rubber bands. Don't have a bandana or scarf handy? You can very easily make one if you have a T-shirt and a decent pair of scissors. One of these versions will suffice next time you have to head to Trader Joe's or Vons.

Whatever you do, do not buy up N95 masks. Leave them for the people who really need them, the health care professionals.
