

This Speaks Volumes About Candidates for Mayor in Fountain Hills

Fountain Hills

Mayor and Council

In Fountain Hills ... “an appointed Town Manager handles day-to-day operations and staff. The mayor runs Council meetings to establish policy with the Council. Typically, a Mayor does not have the power to veto ordinances passed by the Council. The Council enacts ordinances, sets policies, develops an annual Legislative Agenda for the Town, and oversees the city budget and capital improvements program. It responds to constituents' concerns at neighborhood meetings through written correspondence, telephone communication, and staff assistance. 2-year term.”

Why You Should Care:

“The Mayor and ... Town Council play a significant role in keeping our communities running efficiently and overseeing dozens of programs and facilities that directly impact our daily lives. They determine priorities and spending for indispensable services such as police and fire protection, housing, emergency medical services, municipal courts, trash collection, traffic control, public transportation, parks and recreation services, zoning regulation, and public works, including streets, sewers, and signage.”

DICKEY: PUBLIC POLICY PRIORITIES

Building on the significant economic development progress we have seen over the past year or so, including continuing to enhance our downtown area, keeping up with our creative events, and attracting new residents of all ages to support our businesses and overall vitality. Historically I lean toward careful, strategic growth. The proposal for the property adjacent to Target aligns beautifully with that objective. Continuing to implement our new municipal fire department and the MCSO contract, keeping us one of the safest towns in the Valley. Welcoming the International Dark Sky Discovery Center.
