Beloved of St. Monica,

Jesus took bread, and, after he had given thanks, broke it and said,
“This is my body that is for you. Do this in remembrance of me.”

In the same way also the cup, after supper, saying, “This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me.” For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the death of the Lord until he comes.

(1Cor11:25-26)

Be Blessed, Beautiful, Broken and Beloved... Father Ron Moses +

FRAGMENTS

I must be crazed

The center of my life

Fragments

Broken

Spilt on parched ground

Desperate for pieces of hope, of love

Plain - bland - and somewhat tasteless

bitter... sweet

No pomp, no grandiose

Simple bread

Sinful hands - holy hands

grapes of wrath - grapes of life

crushed - love

I must be crazed

My life centered;

Broken Bread, Poured Out Wine...

and now...

I...

am...

...fragmented.

The Wisdom of the Saints

Recently, my brother-in-law asked me, “How many saints are there?” I told him there were too many to count. He mentioned that Wikipedia said there are more than 10,000. I explained that those only include the saints recognized by the Catholic Church and they had gone through a rigorous process to be recognized as saints, people who were either martyred or led exemplary lives. Actually, the definition of a saint is someone who is in heaven with God. That means that there are countless saints, some of our former friends and ancestors included.

Would you like to be a saint one day? We are all called to holiness. The saints who have gone before us are great examples to follow. Many have books written about them. Some of them wrote their own books. Many of them said inspiring things that are still quoted today. The church helps us by giving the saints feast days. These feast days are listed on our church calendar. It is a good practice to read about the Saints of the Day everyday. You will be amazed by both their failings (just like us) and their achievements. You may even find yourself drawn to a certain saint or saints. If so, take the time to Google their names and find out more about them. Or you might even find yourself interested enough to read a whole book about them.

A very easy way to learn more about the saints is to subscribe to Catholic Company’s daily email www.morningoffering.com. It starts with a quote from a saint and also includes excerpts from books written by saints, along with other convenient things to use for your morning devotion, like the daily readings and Liturgy of the Hours.

So start today and model your life after your favorite saints! Listen to the advice they had to offer during their time on earth. Pray with them and ask them to pray for you. Do your best to grow in holiness and maybe one day you can thank them in person for their help in getting you to heaven.
