Experience

IOF INSTITUTE OF FOOTBALL
UK Residential Boys and Girls Full Time Football, Education and USA Soccer Scholarship Preparation Program

Program Overview and Aims

The IOF Academy & IOF Mavericks FC Football Development Program delivers a high-performance training environment that mirrors English Premier League EPPP Category One academies. This program provides a structured, holistic development pathway for elite youth players aged 10–19, combining individual technical development, team coaching, performance analysis, athletic development, and education alignment.

Our coaching is delivered by UEFA A & B qualified coaches with professional academy experience. The program focuses on developing tactically intelligent, technically proficient, and psychologically resilient footballers, ready for professional sports. The program runs all year, so you pay for a year long program and not just term time football, offering fantastic value

The program is open to both High Performance and Development Level players, as the aim is to offer elite academy level coaching for players who wish to pursue a career in sport as a player, gain a USA sport scholarship, or enter the industry as sports lawyer, journalist, coach, analyst or many other sports specific roles, and the school curriculum has been adapted to support this pathway.

USA Sports Scholarships are a core specialty of IOF, with over 1,000 students successfully placed at top US universities. Each year, we host an annual trip to North Carolina, giving our students the unique opportunity to experience US college life first-hand and showcase their talents in front of leading college recruiters.

Private schools now trump card in race for Premier League talent

Great article by The Telegraph on Private Schools and links into Professional Football

Private schools are becoming a football talent factory

As concern around concussion in rugby continues, the middle classes are embracing football and it is paying off at the highest level

Private schools are becoming a recruitment ground for professional football clubs all over the country

Tim Wigmore
10 April 2025 9:00am BST

Football has been the lone major sport in which the proportion of elite players is less than the seven per cent of children who attend independent school. Privately educated children long had less chance of becoming professional footballers than those from state schools. The few exceptions – such as Frank Lampard, who earned an A in his Latin GCSE at Brentwood School – were viewed as curiosities.

No longer. Football is now more vibrant in independent schools than at any time since its original golden age in the mid-to-late 19th century. This can be seen in two simultaneous processes: the boom in the amount of football in private schools, and Premier League clubs' new eagerness to cultivate links with the sector.

In 2004, just 50 school teams were members of the Independent Schools Football Association (ISFA). That number surged to 4,500 by the 2014-15 season. Today, there are 21,000 teams – 15,000 boys' sides and 6,000 girls' sides.

Independent Schools Football Association membership has grown massively in past two decades

What is the EPPP ? (Elite Player Performance Plan)

The Elite Player Performance Plan (EPPP) is the standard set out by the English Premier League and is what professional academies work towards achieving. It is divided into Categories 1 to 3, with Category 1 being the highest standard.

To achieve Category 1 status, academies are assessed on factors such as coaching hours, facilities, and education provision.

Although the EPPP grading system is exclusive to professional academies, we currently meet the requirements set out for Category 1 in terms of our coaching delivery, training environment, and player development program.

With 108 players signed to professional academies, we are now recognised as the UK's most successful private academy, having sent players to clubs such as Aston Villa FC, Manchester United FC, Chelsea FC, and Nottingham Forest FC, with several also going on to represent their country at international level.

To raise the standard of competition, we have formed an elite Saturday academy targeting high-performance players, including those released from professional academies. Players from our school program train with the IOF Mavericks squad on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, improving their tactical knowledge, and then compete in high-level leagues on Saturdays that are regularly attended by professional scouts.

This makes us the only UK private school to operate its own external elite academy club that is also partnered with several professional clubs — giving our players unrivalled access to elite competition and professional pathways.

USA Soccer Scholarships and Careers Support

USA Scholarship Client Management is a service offered by IOF that helps student-athletes both boys and girls navigate the process of obtaining a football scholarship to study and play sports in the USA. This service includes setting family-wide university goals, assessing and planning for academic eligibility, crafting an online soccer and academic CV, compiling video highlights, targeting the best university match, connecting with college coaches, SAT test preparation, university application planning, F1 visa guidance, evaluating and utilising scholarship offers, and providing a dedicated support network for pastoral care and support.

For players on the IOF Football Academy program, this included in your academy school fees saving you £3500 !

USA Showcase College Tour

Have you ever dreamed of studying and playing soccer in the United States? Do you want to learn from the best coaches, train in world-class facilities, and compete with talented players from different backgrounds and cultures?

We are offering a select group of both male and female soccer players the chance to visit some of the top colleges and universities in the US, where they can see first-hand the academic and athletic programs that are available for international students. You will get to tour the campuses, meet the coaches and players, watch some games, and participate in games and training sessions. You will also get to experience the culture and lifestyle of the USA and make new friends and connections that could last a lifetime. The trip is for ages 15 – 19 years and usually takes place annually in February or March (optional/additional fee)

IOF Academy – Frequently Asked Questions

When can I join?

We have two main intakes each year — September and January (but we offer a flexible approach based on individual circumstances)

Can I try before joining?

Yes. You can attend a Elite Club Coaching Session, take part in a full football education immersion course, or join one of our elite football training camps to experience the program first-hand.

What age can I join?

- Residential program: Ages 11 – 19
- Day students: Ages 11 - 19
- Mini Mavericks FC: Ages 4 – 10

What is IOF Mavericks FC?

To raise the standard of competition, we have formed an elite Saturday academy targeting high-performance players, including those released from professional academies. Players from our school program train with the Mavericks squad on Tuesday and Thursday evenings and play in competitive leagues regularly attended by professional scouts.

Do I have to play for IOF Mavericks FC and can players not on the Full Time Program play for the Mavericks FC?

No — participation is optional. However, most students choose to play due to the high standard of football. Many also continue with their Sunday league teams. Some of our players are signed to professional clubs or Elite Talent Centres (ETCs) and represent them on weekends. Abbotsholme school pupils not on the Full Time Football program cannot join the IOF Mavericks FC, as the Mavericks FC is there to support the football program and not a school sports club.

Do you have links with professional clubs?

- Yes — we have strong connections with Category 1–3 academies, ensuring our players receive maximum exposure. We are regularly invited to play showcase matches against our partner clubs.
- We are the UK's most successful private academy with 108 players signed to professional clubs, and as a result our professional club partners frequently send scouts to our games and development camps.

Is the program open to boys and girls ? — Yes, the program is open to all

Do you have links with professional clubs?

Yes — we have strong connections with Category 1–3 academies, ensuring our players receive maximum exposure. We are regularly invited to play showcase matches against our partner clubs, have guest coaches conducting sessions and have scouts attending our fixtures.

What if my son/daughter develops an interest in analysis, coaching, or other football-related roles?

They will still train daily for insight into professional coaching, but we will tailor their program to focus on their chosen area. For example, they may spend weekends assisting with match analysis, data collection, and performance analytics.

What happens if they fall behind academically or during exam periods?

- We work closely with teaching staff to ensure academic success. If a player falls behind, training will pause until their work is up to date.
- During exams, we adjust schedules to allow for extra study time.
- As our program runs all year round, we can make up any lost training hours during the off-season.

What's the Fee's and what's included ?— The fee for the program is listed on the school site along side the education fee for clarity.

- Daily Coaching including team training on Tuesdays and Thursdays
- USA Soccer Scholarship Preparation and in house Consultancy (saving you £3500)
