

A young preacher visited a new family and asked the man if he was a Christian. The man said no my name is Johnson. The preacher said, I mean are you lost. The man said no I know right where I am. The preacher said no, I mean are you ready for judgment Day. The man said when is it? The preacher said, it could be today or tomorrow or the day after that. The man said, don't tell my wife, she'll want to go all three days.

--

When Christian talk-show host Jim Bakker was arrested for stealing retirement money from senior citizens, pastor E.V. Hill was sitting on a plane reading his Bible. When we do that people sometimes people get religious.

The man sitting next to him said, "Why are you reading that Bible, are you a preacher." Dr. Hill said yes and the man said, "What do you think about old Jim Bakker?"

Dr. Hill said God has a book on Jim Baker and I'm not in it and you're not in it. God has a book on me and Jim Bakker's not in it and you are not in it. God has a book on you and Jim Baker's not in and I am not in it

THE PERFECT ANSWER

To me that was the perfect answer. But let me tell you about another answer more perfect than that. Abraham Lincoln's wife was fiercely jealous and always spoke her mind.

They were at a special celebration and Lincoln was talking to a young lady and her father. Lincoln's wife ran over and said to the lady, "You hussy, quit flirting with my husband". Embarrassed the father and daughter walked away to leave.

Lincoln walked over and caught them at the door and said, "You two have just experienced two minutes of what I have been experiencing for 35 years.

Lincoln had another perfect answer. Someone asked him during the Civil War if God was on the side of the Union. Lincoln said the important question is, is the Union on the side of God.

Winter was over and one old man called his buddy They said let's start playing golf again. the buddy said I can't go, I can't see the ball anymore after I hit it. the man said I have eyes like an eagle I can watch it for you. They stood on the first the man with bad eyesight hit the ball, turned to his buddy and said where did it go. The buddy said where did what go. getting old ain't no fun! But at least were being seen and not viewed.

Back in the day when country preachers had more than one church and the collection was taken up at the close of the service to pay him, a preacher took his little boy with him. The service ended and the preacher put a dollar in his hat and passed it around. When they started home the preacher looked and there was only dollar there. He said, "those people should be ashamed of themselves" and the little boy said, "Daddy, if you'd put more in you would have gotten more out." That is true in every church every Sunday.