

1

Remembering your big, bright eyes full of wonder and excitement during your first year of school.

2

A little something for those lips that could turn from a pout to a smile in a heartbeat during second grade.

3

Using a little of this in third grade showed me just how grown up you were!

4

Mentioning a boy's name and romance in fourth grade would send a beautiful blush to your cheeks!

5

Here's to all of the overnight parties that created wonderful friendships in the fifth grade.

6

Ever since sixth grade, you've established a foundation of your own ideals & principles.

7

Did you master the art of holding hands in seventh grade? Using this, you will learn to love it!

8

This will help you avoid something you hated in eighth grade and you will never learn to like!

9

Becoming a freshman was a big step. From now on you can put your best foot forward!

10

As a sophomore you became your own person with your own ideas and different moods. You're wonderful!

11

*You are beautiful!
Here's a little treat to pamper yourself and those beautiful eyes!*

12

CONGRATULATIONS!

You have completed the most wonderful years of youth. This will help for a smooth transition into adulthood.

Total Value of Products: $192/232

MY suggestion...charge full price & provide a basket or decorative box to contain it all, as extra gift w/purchase-plus any add ins that seem appropriate (like palette or headbands, Travel Roll Up Bag, etc)

 Products should be customized, & can all affect total cost ***

Wrap each product in tissue paper and tie with curling ribbon.

I've made these sets with

- 2 different colored tissues for each item (ie: red and yellow on one item & then yellow and green on another)
- Or coordinate with school colors (high school or upcoming college colors)
- Or coordinate with recipients favorite color(s)
