Upon arrival, you will be transferred to the Lost Farm restaurant, positioned atop a coastal dune, offering stunning views of both the golf course and the coastline.

After lunch, a brief scenic flight will take you along Tasmania's northeast coast to Friendly Beaches airstrip. You will be transferred to the Beachfront Bicheno Hotel, where you can enjoy beautiful ocean views.

DAY TWO Sunday Nov 16

Wineglass Bay

Today's tour explores the Freycinet Peninsula, named after the brothers de Freycinet, Louis Claude and Louis Henri. In 1802, they joined French explorer Nicholas Baudin on an expedition to map the southern coasts of mainland Australia and Van Diemen's Land.

In the 1820s, whalers arrived at Wineglass Bay. For two decades, they explored the bay in small boats, harpooning nearby whales and bringing them ashore for butchering. The bones were used for corsets and hoop skirts, while the blubber was boiled to extract oil for export to Britain for lighting.

During this period, the blue waters would turn red from the blood, resembling the hue of a glass of red wine, thus giving the bay its name. By the 1850s, the whalers had moved on, but sheep, cattle grazing, and coal and tin mining followed. Environmental degradation continued until 1916, when the peninsula was declared a national park.

DAY THREE Monday Nov 17

A short flight to Hobart will take you via Schouten Island, providing aerial views of Wineglass Bay and Port Arthur, before following the Derwent Valley to Cambridge Airport.

From your accommodation, it is a short walk to historic Battery Point and Salamanca. The afternoon Hobart town tour includes a visit to Mount Wellington, which at 1,271 meters, offers panoramic views of Hobart.

Deep within the national park, among dramatic and challenging mountains, lies Melaleuca, a former tin-mining settlement accessible only by plane or a week of walking. Following the string of beaches flanked by dense wilderness should bring you to Strahan just in time for lunch.

DAY FIVE Wednesday Nov 19

Sarah Island

Early nineteenth-century planners deemed the remote Gordon River wilderness ideal for Tasmania's first penal settlement, due to the abundance of Huon pine trees lining the rivers, a timber ideal for ship and house building.

Sarah Island existed for eleven years and became the largest shipbuilding yard in the British colonies during that time. It also gained notoriety as one of the harshest convict prisons ever created. Despite the almost impossible escape through the West Coast's impenetrable rainforests, over 150 prisoners attempted to flee.

Today's cruise includes a stop at Sarah Island and a passage through Hell's Gate, Macquarie Harbour's narrow entrance aptly named by convicts. In the afternoon, you will cruise the tranquil surroundings of the Gordon River, disembarking at Heritage Landing for a short walk through the dense rainforest.

DAY SIX Thursday Nov 20

Today's flight will follow the west coast to King Island. Here, you will be met at the airport for a five-hour tour of the island. Highlights include a visit to Lavinia Beach with its renowned surf break and Cape Wickham Lighthouse, established in 1861 and standing at 48 meters as Australia's tallest lighthouse.

You will have lunch in Currie before being dropped off at the airport for the flight to Devonport.

DAY SEVEN Friday Nov 21

Dove Lake

The final day of the Safari includes the Cradle Mountain tour. We first visit Sheffield, known for its many murals, for morning tea.

Passing through picturesque countryside, we reach the Cradle Mountain Visitor Centre for transfer to the start of the Dove Lake Walk. This six-kilometer walk around the glacial lake takes a couple of hours and leads you past the historic boatshed, through dense rainforest thickets, and directly beneath the nose of Cradle Mountain, where you might see its reflection on the lake.

On the return, we will stop at Leven Canyon, where a couple of lookouts on the one-kilometer circuit track provide stunning views of a canyon cut through a steep, forested country by the mighty Leven River.
