

I'm a Teacher, Not a Therapist!

Decreasing Overwhelm & Empowering Educators in Their Appropriate Role in Healing Trauma in Students

Workshop-Style Training Date to be Determined by Your Organization

How can educators effectively serve trauma-impacted students when they don't have mental health training?

Who should attend?

- ✓ Administrators, Teachers, Paraprofessionals, Specialists, Service Providers
- ✓ Parents, Caregivers & Advocates

What will I learn/gain?

- ✓ Clarity regarding the difference between the roles of educators and the roles of mental health staff in serving trauma-impacted students
- ✓ Deep-Dive into what the neuroscience and other related fields show us about how to impact the nervous system, brain and body for change & healing
- ✓ Understanding of how simple, thoughtfully designed educational practices can have a truly therapeutic impact on the brain and nervous system of a child with trauma impacts, resulting in behavioral change and access to a brain that's capable of learning
- ✓ Application - how to plan actionable steps and strategies to incorporate into the educational day that will have ongoing impact for students without demanding more time and work from staff
