President Melissa Wilson's Report November is here!

It's time for one of our most important events of the year:
the SOAA Annual Art Show at the Royal Oak Historical Society Museum! We would love to see all of our members at the opening on Sunday, November 8, whether or not you have artwork in the show. It's a wonderful opportunity to celebrate our artists, support one another, and share our creativity with the community. I'll be there in spirit this year, as I'll be participating in the Philadelphia Museum Craft Show that same weekend.

Please use the SignUpGenius link in this newsletter to sign up to bring a treat for the opening reception or volunteer for a shift during the show. Most importantly, spread the word! Invite your friends, family, and neighbors, and share the show with anyone who might enjoy seeing the work of our talented members. It's up to all of us to help get people through the door. Our partnership with the Royal Oak Historical Society Museum has been wonderful over the years, and our show brings visitors into their unique and interesting space, too. Let's make this another successful year!

At our November meeting, don't forget to bring your nature-inspired creations for our Nature Art Contest! We'll celebrate everyone's work, award some fun prizes, and then enjoy a hands-on cyanotype workshop together. It will be a great opportunity to experiment with this historic photographic process and create something of our own.

Looking ahead to December, we'll celebrate the holidays with our annual SOAA potluck party! This year, we'll also be creating some new and different SOAA gear as a special holiday gift to our members. To help offset the cost, we'll once again hold our popular bag raffles.

Please consider donating an item or two. Extra art supplies are always a hit, but holiday gifts and other fun finds are welcome, too. Take a look around and see what you might have to share!

Remember to bring your favorite dish to pass, and our December meeting will begin a half hour early so we have plenty of time to eat, celebrate, and enjoy each other's company.

I'm grateful for this creative and supportive community. Thank you all for helping SOAA continue to foster creativity and community!

Clawson (Hunter) Community Center Adult Painting Art Show/Sale

Join us November 6, 2026 from 1–5 pm for the Clawson (Hunter) Community Center Adult Painting Art Show/Sale. Over a dozen artists will have their works on display for viewing and purchase!

The Community Center is located at 509 Fisher Court, Clawson, MI 48017, north of 14 Mile, between N. Main St. and Rochester Rd.

Get ready for our annual Holiday Gathering this December 1!

We're excited to announce that we'll be hosting another ticket raffle auction! If you have any fun items to donate, please reach out to Susan Donnellon with your contributions or at least let her know you plan to bring something. Each person donating items will fill out a card at the meeting describing the items being raffled off. Susan's email is sdonnellon6925@gmail.com

Great ideas for donations include artwork/crafts that make perfect holiday gifts, art supplies, homemade goodies, or anything else that others might love. Let's spread some holiday cheer together!

Our holiday gathering is a potluck and we always start a half hour early. Please bring your favorite homemade dish to pass.

Not-so-humble newsletter designer finds Detroit TV fame

SOAA member John Nagridge was on the WDIV weekend morning show with Farmington Hills Cultural Arts Supervisor Rachel Timlin on October 17 to share their participation in the Farmington Hills Maker's Market held that day, as well as promote the art classes offered at the HAWK Community Center.

John brought a blocked-in image for a pumpkin painting that he worked on during the segment and even had hosts Priya Mann and Jay Scott Smith make some brushmarks on it. He finished the piece later that day at the market, where he again allowed some visitors to contribute some more brushmarks on it.

A Creative Evening Celebrating Nature and Art!

November Meeting: Nature Art, Prizes & Cyanotypes!

Join the South Oakland Art Association at our November 10 meeting for a creative evening celebrating nature and art! We'll begin by inviting everyone who participated in our Nature Art Contest to share their masterpieces. We'll have some fun prizes for our participants, so come ready to celebrate the creativity and inspiration found in the natural world.

After the contest presentations, Melissa Wilson will lead a hands-on cyanotype demonstration, introducing us to this beautiful and historic photographic art process.

What is a cyanotype?

Developed in 1842 by scientist and astronomer Sir John Herschel, cyanotype is an early photographic process that creates striking blue-and-white images using light-sensitive materials and exposure to sunlight or UV light. In the 1840s, botanist and photographer Anna Atkins famously used the technique to capture detailed images of algae and plants, creating what is considered the first book illustrated with photographs. Cyanotypes later became widely used for architectural and engineering blueprints.

During our workshop, we'll explore how to use natural materials to create our own unique cyanotype prints. It's a wonderful opportunity to experiment with the shapes and patterns found in nature while discovering a historic art technique that continues to inspire artists today.

Bring your creativity and join us for an evening of artistic discovery, inspiration, and community!

Local artist Jay Anderson to judge our Annual Art Show

Jay Anderson makes art about what makes us human: the full range of our shared emotions and stories. The face and form show it all, from love to anger, sadness to joy, and to everything across the span of human experience.

His training began early and unofficially. Jay started reading and collecting comic books in first grade and learned to draw by copying masters of the form, such as Jack Kirby, John Romita, John Buscema, and Neal Adams. In the 1990s, he returned to comics as a co-creator drawing, inking, and lettering Doris Nelson, Atomic Housewife.

His formal art education started in grade school, taking drawing and painting classes at the Birmingham Bloomfield Art Association (BBAA) and continued during college at Detroit's Center for Creative Studies. He left CCS for a job at a local advertising agency, then moved on to work in electronic pre-press, programming, and publishing, before launching his own graphic design and photography business. During those years he went back to school and completed a BA in graphic design at Marygrove College in Detroit.

As his clients increasingly needed websites, his design work moved online. He went on to rebuild Chrysler's intranet for its Advance Manufacturing and Engineering division, and for nearly thirty years he led technology and software development teams for banks, health systems, and national companies.

Jay's return to art came a few years ago after he joined a local sketch group, and the twice-weekly sessions provided a steady rhythm of practice and improvement. This creative focus continued to grow, and led to his first solo show as an artist in 2024 titled Captured Moments. This October, his work will be part of the Northville Art House's 2026 Off Center Group Show, where he won first place in 2025.

Jay is also a woodworker. Every frame and all presentation hardware for his artwork is built by hand in his own shop.

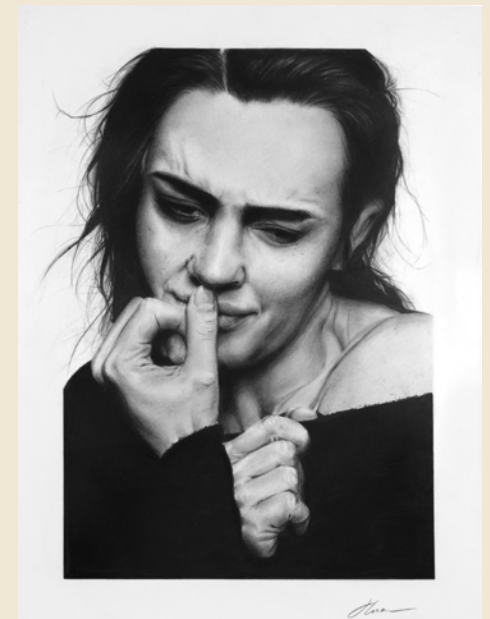

He lives in Royal Oak, Michigan, where he serves as president of the Royal Oak Arts Council.

Be one of our SOAA Artists of The Month

One of the best parts of our monthly meetings is seeing the beautiful new art coming from our members. The variety of mediums, styles, and subject matter never fail to inspire. We'd love to see the new work you make and hope you bring it in and submit in our Artist of the Month competition. Here's our contest rules:

1. You must be an SOAA member in attendance to enter artwork in the monthly contest.
2. All artwork must be submitted by 7:00 p.m. Voting ends at 7:15 p.m.
3. Our categories are Portrait, Representational, Abstract, and 3-Dimensional.
4. Artists may enter two pieces of art each month. They do not need to be entered in the same category.
5. First & Second Place Awards will be given in each category. In the event of a tie, both winners will receive an award.
6. Anyone attending the meeting may vote for the Artists of The Month.
7. Winners are announced at the end of the meeting and will have their photo taken for our newsletter.
8. Once a piece of art has been entered in the Artist of The Month contest, it cannot be entered again.
9. When a piece of art borders on two categories, the Awards Chair may assist with category selection with artist agreement. Some art could fit in multiple categories.

Show your artwork on our website

Another advantage of membership is our Member Artwork Section on our SOAA website at southoaklandart.com. It's easy to do and allows us to show off the talents of our membership.

Submit up to 8 photos of your artworks you would like to display, a short bio and/or artist statement, and possibly a photo of yourself to be used in your section. Photos should be in jpeg format.

Email them to Webmaster John Rash at rash.john1@gmail.com along with your contact information.
