Our prayer is to support healing in our Indigenous communities. RAW advocates for healthy relationships. We educate our communities on issues around domestic, sexual, missing & murdered, dating and family violence...

Here at Restoring Ancestral Winds, we are driven by a single goal; to do our part in making the world a better place for Indigenous communities located in the Great Basin in Utah, and portions of Colorado and Nevada. Our decision-making process is informed by comprehensive empirical studies and high-quality data evaluation. We strive to build productive relationships and make a positive impact with all of our pursuits.
