Kristen was an incredible speaker! She kept me engaged with informative, valuable content, but her delivery is what really set her apart. Learning about risk mitigation and vendor verification is extremely important, and she added an element of enthusiasm that made the complex topics easy to understand and memorable. -B. Wilson

Beyond her impressive presentation skills, Kristen's willingness to share her industry expertise and insights with our team was invaluable. Her contributions helped us better understand the market dynamics and the role of commercial machine tool companies in the sector.
