ISO 45001:2018 OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH & SAFETY MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS AWARENESS COURSE

DURATION: 01 DAY

ISO 45001:2018, ISO's new Occupational Health and Safety Management System standard designed to replace OHSAS 18001, is published in March 2018. As globalisation and global trade continues to escalate, organizations' interested parties are expecting ethics in every aspect of their business, especially in the working conditions of their employees. ISO 45001 will provide organizations an internationally recognized occupational health and safety standard to follow within their management system. This standard provides the specification for formal, systematic analysis and management of risk, management of regulatory compliance, promotion of safer work practices, and evaluation of occupational health and safety performance.
