

INVASIVE SPECIES

Wels Catfish

IDENTIFICATION

The Wels Catfish is a scale-less fish with an elongated body. It can grow up to 13 feet and can live up to 80 years. It has a darker brown back and sides with an almost white belly.

FEATURES

Nocturnal

Very large mouth

Can reach up to 880 pounds

HABITAT

Lives in large, warm, well-vegetated lakes and deep slow-moving rivers with holes and sunken trees where they can hide.

REPORT

Report sightings to:
Iron Baraga Conservation District (906) 875-3765 or any local conservation district or to the Miswest Invasive Species Information Network (MISIN)