BUSD CELEBRATES

DISABILITY PRIDE MONTH

JANUARY

People with disabilities are the largest and most diverse minority group within the population, representing all abilities, ages, races, ethnicities, religions and socio-economic backgrounds. Because at least 1-in-4 adults in the United States has some type of disability, it's no surprise that a movement of "disability pride" is emerging and rapidly expanding. Disability pride is defined as accepting and honoring each person's uniqueness, and seeing it as a natural and beautiful part of human diversity. Disability pride is an integral part of a movement to accept all of us for our differences and a direct challenge to systemic ableism and stigmatizing definitions of disability.

You can read more about this Heritage Month and learn about the books and lessons that our children will have access to this month in their classrooms at www.brentwood.k12.ca.us/page/community-celebrations.
