

A detailed architectural rendering of a modern courtyard. The scene is filled with lush greenery, including various tropical plants like palm trees and large-leafed foliage. The buildings are multi-story, featuring balconies and terraces that are heavily planted with greenery. Some balconies have hanging plants, while others have large potted plants. The architecture is contemporary, with clean lines and a mix of materials like concrete, wood, and metal. A paved walkway leads through the courtyard, and a small, modern structure is visible in the distance. The sky is bright and blue, with a few birds flying. The overall atmosphere is one of a peaceful, green urban environment.
