2023 Taiwanese Canadian Cultural Festival

If You Want to Travel to Taiwan, Please Go to the "Taiwan Tourism Exhibition" First

The Taiwanese Canadian Cultural Festival plans the "Taiwan Tourism Exhibition" again this year and has received strong support from the Taiwan Tourism Bureau, China Airlines and the tourism industry. The organizer pointed out that if you want to visit Asia or have plans to visit Taiwan, please come to the "Taiwan Tourism Exhibition" first and ask for first-hand travel information such as Taiwan sightseeing, flights, food, and others.

As the COVID-19 pandemic is coming to an end, all countries in the world have opened their borders, and people are eagerly looking forward to going abroad for sightseeing. Over the years, the "Taiwan Tourism Exhibition" of the Taiwanese Canadian Cultural Festival has been very popular and loved by participants and has successfully promoted Taiwan's tourism.

In recent years, Taiwan has successfully promoted backpacker tourism and bicycle tourism, which is very popular with Canadians. In Taiwan, bicycles are also known as "Iron Horse". In Taiwan, they ride "Iron Horse" around the island, riding to Wuling at the foot of Hehuan Mountain, venturing to Taroko, and making their way through Taitung to see the Pacific Ocean. They are many North American friends who love freedom and have always dreamed of bicycling across the island of Taiwan.

When thinking about travel and tourism, we can not forget to mention Taiwanese food, especially all kinds of special snacks. Snacks are a very distinctive part of Taiwanese culture, including pearl milk tea, salty crispy chicken, grilled sausages, tea eggs and wheel cakes, among others. Taiwanese snacks have had enduring popularity and have led trends across the world, making them an important reason for tourists to visit Taiwan. Of course, there are not only night market snacks in Taiwan. Taiwanese style restaurant roundtable fare, seafood stir-fry, beef noodles, steamed buns and other snacks are also not to be missed. Because the ingredients used are all produced in Taiwan, they are unforgettable for tourists who have eaten it.
