

Summer Camp Guidelines

Cast Expectation: All campers and interns will be expected to follow the guidelines set forth by Parkway Players. They should do their best at the role assigned and accept that every part is important. They should work hard and remain respectful to all involved, understanding the directors have the right to remove them from the camp without a refund if they choose not to follow the guidelines and expectations including dress code and attendance guidelines. Here are the 3 big rules:

1. Be Safe – follow dress code, no horseplay, remain in designated areas of church
2. Be Respectful – follow directions, be kind to everyone, be on time, no gossip
3. Be Responsible – bring your script, stay off your phone, learn your parts

Dress Code: Dress for camp should be modest and comfortable. There will be dancing involved, so tennis shoes or jazz shoes should be worn. No flip-flops or crocs please. For the performances, each camper will receive a t-shirt that should be worn with jeans or black leggings/jazz pants.

- Snacks – we will take short snack breaks in the morning and afternoon
- Sack Lunch – we will have a 30-minute lunch break each day

Volunteer Opportunities: We know not all parents are available to help during summer camp. If you are able and willing, we would greatly appreciate any assistance in the following areas:

- Morning Activities Monitors: we will break into age-appropriate groups for improv games and crafts. All activities will be planned, but extra help facilitating the activities would take place in the choir room, fellowship hall, or auditorium.
- Lunch Monitor: Help monitor kids while they eat lunch from 12:00 – 12:30 and help clean up the fellowship hall after.
