Galatians 6:9 - “Let us not lose heart in doing good, for in due time we will reap if we do not grow weary.” NASB Translation

Biblical Message: THE COURAGE TO KEEP GOING

Paul encourages believers not to grow weary in doing good, reminding us that we will reap in due season if we do not give up.

Bible Besties, some days courage looks like taking one more faithful step with tears in your eyes. You love Jesus deeply and still feel tired. You trust His promises and still wonder how you will face tomorrow.

Being weary does not mean your faith has failed. It means you need strength and you can bring that need to God.

God does not ask us to pretend that life is easy. He invites us to depend on Him as we walk through it.

Remember who is walking with you.

In Joshua 1:9, God commanded Joshua to be strong and courageous as he prepared to lead Israel into the promised land. Joshua faced a responsibility larger than his own ability, but God assured him of His presence.

That command belonged to Joshua's particular calling, yet believers today also have God's promise that He will never leave or forsake them (Hebrews 13:5–6).

You may not know every turn ahead, but you can turn to the Lord at every step.

Receive strength instead of pretending you have enough.

In 2 Corinthians 12:9, Paul tells us that Christ's grace was sufficient for him and that His power was made perfect in weakness. God did not remove Paul's difficulty as he had requested. Instead, He assured Paul that His grace would sustain him.

Sometimes we want courage to feel like complete confidence. But courage can begin with an honest prayer: "Lord, I feel weak. Please help me obey You today."

You do not have to hide your weakness from the One who supplies your strength.

Keep doing the good God has placed before you.

Galatians 6:9–10 calls us to persevere in doing good. This is not a promise that every personal plan will succeed or that every hardship will end on our schedule. It is encouragement to remain faithful in a life shaped by the Spirit.

Keep speaking truth with love. Keep serving where you are able. Keep praying for others. Keep sharing the gospel. Small acts of obedience matter, even when their results are not immediately visible.

Let rest be part of your perseverance.

In Mark 6:31, Jesus invited His apostles to come away and rest after their ministry work. Rest was part of His care for them.

Keeping going does not mean ignoring exhaustion, refusing help, or remaining in danger. Sometimes the next wise step is to rest, seek counsel, accept support, or change direction.

Faithfulness includes caring for the life and strength God has entrusted to you.

Keep your eyes on Jesus.

Hebrews 12:1–3 urges us to run with endurance while looking to Jesus, who endured the cross. Our deepest reason to persevere is found in Him, His love, His faithfulness, His sacrifice, and His victory.

When discouragement tells you that your faithful efforts do not matter, remember that your labor in the Lord is not in vain (1 Corinthians 15:58).

You are not carrying the future by yourself. You are following a risen Savior.

Wisdom nugget:
Courage is trusting Jesus enough to take the next faithful step, even when you cannot see the whole road.

A faithful step for today:
Ask yourself, "What is one thing I can do today that agrees with God's Word?" It may be making a needed phone call, asking for help, offering forgiveness, opening your Bible, or taking time to rest. Begin there.

Bible Besties, you do not have to solve every problem today. Bring your burdens to Jesus and receive His grace for the step in front of you. There is courage to keep going when your hope is anchored in Him.

Dear Heavenly Father, strengthen us when we grow weary. Give us courage to obey, wisdom to recognize when we need rest, and humility to receive help. Keep our eyes on Jesus and our hearts faithful to Your Word. Help us continue doing good while trusting You with the outcome. In Jesus' name, amen.

Bible Besties, "The Courage to Keep Going" speaks directly to this chapter of my life. As I prepare to move and wait on God's provision and direction, I am learning to trust Him more one day at a time. I do not have every answer, and some days I feel weary, but the Lord continues to give me strength and courage to take the next faithful step. Through prayer, His Word, and the encouragement of people He has placed around me, He reminds me that I am not walking through this alone. My circumstances are still unfolding, but my hope is anchored in Jesus. I am thankful for His daily grace as we pray, prepare, and trust Him with what comes next.
