That Monday's child is fair of face,
Tuesday's child is full of grace,
Wednesday's child is born for woe,
Thursday's child has far to go,
Friday's child is loving and giving,
Saturday's child must work for a living,
But the child that is born on the Sabbath day
Is bonnie and happy and wealthy and gay.

"The Life of Sarah Wall Linnell" (As told by her) 1941 by Margaret Fenwick Linnell (Unpublished and condensed)

In the year 1876 Miss Lovenia Norris, the daughter of John and Pricilla Bloom Norris, of Pike Township, near Curwensville, Penna., left her home to go west. When she arrived in Saguache, Colorado, she met Truman J. Wall, the son of William and Sarah Waln Wall of Penn Township, Grampian Hills, Penna., whom she was to marry.

In coming from the ranch he left the horses at the minister's, made the arrangements to be married, then took the minister's horse and drove to Saguache Village to meet his bride. They were married Sept. 1, 1876, the same day she arrived. They went to the ranch, seven miles from the village to live. This ranch was located in a valley at the foothills of the Sangre de Christo Mts. While there he bought his brother Amos' ranch, adjoining his; the two combined made 320 acres. He was never idle, so in time had a fence around the whole ranch. The buildings consisted of two log houses with adobe roofs. In order to get supplies he had to freight with horses from Leadville, 100 miles away. He had to go over the mountains, and the trip took a week.

To this couple on June 14, 1877, I, Sarah Pricilla Wall (Linnell) was born. They named me for both grandmothers.

My grandfather (William Wall) was getting to be an old man and could not do the work at home, so he asked my father to come back stating that he would deed him all of his property. (See attached letter) In the spring of 1878 Father sold the ranch for $1,000 and went back east.

The old homestead was situated in Penn Township, two and one half miles from Pennville (now called Grampian). Grandfather Wall felled the first tree on this site of land to build a log house. While he did this he had to have his gun by his side constantly as the woods were full of wild animals. Later he built a more modern house in which the family was reared. Another building consisted of wagon shed, corn crib and hog pen under one roof. The original wooden shingles lasted 100 years. He built the barn in 1849. Due to bad weather and a plague of grasshoppers, at harvest time there was nothing to put in the barn. Stock had to be reduced to bare necessity and fed from ends of branches of trees. The grain left over from the previous year fed the family. A spring house was built over a cold spring with an abundance of water which was then piped to a water trough by the house and from there to the barn. The pipes were made from logs with a hole bored lengthwise through them, then placed end to end underground. Below the house was a dutch oven built of stone and brick. Grandmother baked there for years. In the house (kitchen) was a fireplace where they cooked in winter. There was also a log house we called the dry house with a workshop and grainery combined. All of these buildings sat on a hill facing south in the old Quaker tradition.

In the spring of 1880 my second brother, Ord Albert was born, Clark having died in infancy.

August 20, 1881, Maude Elizabeth was born, a very pretty baby. In my mind another baby to rock!

June 23, 1883, my sister Alice was born. She was a cross baby and they didn't seem to love her as much as Elizabeth. I adored her and would sit by the cradle Grandfather made and rock her by the hour.

As far back as I can remember, Father lumbered. In the winter time, they hauled the timber down to Bells Landing on the Susquehanna River. When spring came they made it into rafts with shanties to live in, as the water raised from the spring floods they rode the rafts to Lock Haven where they were sold. Each owner stamped his logs. (For some unexplainable reason the home stamp was "F Y & Co") As the timber was depleted Father contracted log jobs for others.

Father did not believe in working on Sunday. He was a devoted Quaker and on Sunday or First Day the whole family had to go to Meeting. It was a hard job for little folk to sit still for one hour.

They would sit one half hour in silence, then Nathan Moore, the preacher, would rise and as I remember would begin his sermon, "The Spirit has moved me to convey a message to you," and so on. After he was through speaking, he would sit down, hold his head in one hand for a few minutes, then shake hands with the man beside him and the Meeting was over. All the old ladies dressed very plain and wore Quaker bonnets with ruching tucked inside next to the face. Every November Quarterly Meeting was held at West Branch. It lasted three days and all the homes were filled with people from away as the other Meetings were across the mountains.

We had a large farm. Father raised a lot of cattle, in the spring the cattle were branded and sent to the mountains to pasture. In the fall they were rounded up and returned to the proper owners. The large ones were butchered as father furnished meat to the lumber camps. When the local supply ran low he would send to the West and buy carloads of cattle.

The lumber for our house was planed by hand, the shavings used between the walls for insulation. (They remain bright in color and as curly as the day they were placed there. R.S.)

July 30, 1886, Ella Cecelia was born. When she was four months old, Father and Mother went to Mother's old homestead for Thanksgiving and left her in my care. I was nine. I roasted four small chickens and made mashed potatoes, and we four children had a good dinner. There was a terrible blizzard and it was four days before the folks got home.

One summer we moved into the wash house or summer kitchen and Father remodeled our house. We then had three rooms down and five rooms up. After it was all papered and painted we were much happier, up to that time it had been quite drab. (When we removed the original plaster we found horizontal pine paneling, tongued, and grooved with a decorative bead. The ceiling and beams had been painted the old blue much used in early homes. R.S.) The outside was cream and brown trim with a picket fence to match. It all cost $3,000.

On Sept. 16, 1890, Truman J. Wall Jr. was born.

That winter Father was lumbering again and contracted pneumonia, he died four weeks later, Jan. 18, 1891. There were 91 teams in his funeral procession, the largest Granpham ever had. We had prayer at the house and Services at the Quaker Meeting House. There was lots of snow on the ground.

After Fathers business was all settled, Mother found that all of the property was free of debt and she had two thousand in cash besides a large stock of cattle and horses.

In the spring of 1897 Mother married William Helper. This changed our home and I decided to take up sewing.

After taking a six months course on April 9, 1898, I got my diploma. I had all the sewing I could do. I worked in Curwensville and made my home at Aunt Lizzies.

(She met some people who had settled in Cripple Creek Col. when they were home for a visit. After listening to them tell about the west she and Lola Stage decided to go west. R.S.)

A lot of tears were shed on my last day home. On Oct. 10, 1899, I had my trunk packed with a nice lot of clothes and Ord drove me to the train in Granpham. We stoped in Kansas to see Uncle Amos and on Nov. 13, we left for Colorado.

(Sarah immediately found work sewing, she worked at this until her eyes gave out. She had various jobs as waitress in boarding houses and hotels. This was where she met her future husband John Linnell, a "Yonkee." She and Lola took a trip to Montana planning to stay if they liked it but it was cold and windy all the time, and they decided to go to California or back to Colorado. The ticket agent flipped a coin and the decision was back to Colorado.)

(Upon her return to Victor, Col. she found work and soon became engaged to John Linnell.)

We were married in Cripple Creek, Jan. 1, 1903. John worked day shifts in the (Gold) mines.

W A I L

Most every one belonged to the union, during the spring labor troubles started brewing and people began to leave. We decided to go to Maine where John owned half interest in a farm.

(They left Colorado, stopped over for almost a month in Granpian and went on to Maine. Sarah found it hard to adjust to the ways and temperment of the New Englanders and wished many times to be back in the west.)
