

A bit about the boat

The Intrepid 370 is an infinitely capable vessel. Her smooth ride is the result of an aggressive deep-V design and heavy hull construction that just eats up chop and rough seas. She is powered by triple 250hp Mercury Verado outboards, with a cruising speed between 28-33 knots. All of which, effectively shrinks the distances between the islands down to short hops of under an hour or so.

Once aboard, Runaway Bunny's creature comforts are as impressive as her speed and stability. She sports a center console with a large, comfy U-shaped seating area forward of the helm. Down below, is an air-conditioned cabin with a fridge, shower, separate head and simple galley. Back up on deck, a Sunfly shade system offers relief from the tropical sun when needed. While the inviting seating areas both fore and aft invite you to sit back and enjoy the beautiful surroundings.
