

Note: From The Editor

I view passive (casual) socks as the ones I would wear socially. Many of our customers who have chronic conditions such as neuropathy, plantar fasciitis, or even type 2 diabetics don't even think about wearing casual socks. Active (performance) socks can enhance your ability to perform your daily activities whether that be in the gym, on the field, or just living. I have to tell you, I am a little biased about our socks. We use total science in every pair we make.

Kindest Regards
