TEXAS ATTORNEY GENERAL: FEDERAL GOVERNMENT CAN'T ORDER MANDATORY COVID-19 VACCINATIONS

The Epoch Times

Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton argued that he doesn't believe the federal government can order mandatory COVID-19 vaccinations or mask-wearing.

"I don't think the federal government can order this, and so it's going to be up to the states to decide what they're going to do," Paxton told Newsmax over the weekend, adding that he believes federal law stipulates people can't be forced to disclose health information around COVID-19, including their vaccination status.

"I would absolutely think federal law would cover that," Paxton, a Republican, said in the interview. "But also, what right does the Congress of the federal government have to tell anybody that they have to be vaccinated. That's an individual choice."

Serving on the center’s board, however, are several Chinese Communist Party apparatchiks. The co-chair of the effort, Yu Lizhong, is the former president of two Chinese Communist Party-run universities and has held leadership roles at several state-run groups:

The Epoch Times

A lawyer for former President Donald Trump said the Department of Justice’s recent statement that the former president must hand over his tax returns to Congress is tantamount to harassment.

Last week, the Justice Department said the Department of Treasury must hand the documents over to the House Ways and Means Committee, which has long sought information about Trump’s finances. During the Trump administration, the Treasury Department blocked their release.
