

The Vermont Towing Association Code of Ethics

- * Members of the Vermont Towing Association shall conduct themselves and their business with integrity, honesty and courtesy when dealing with the public, law enforcement officials and other Towing Professionals.
- * Members shall maintain their equipment and business property to keep it safe, clean and in proper working condition.
- * Drivers shall be neat and clean, courteous and above all else, properly trained.
- * Members shall practice truth in advertising.
- * Members shall strive to comply with all local, state and federal laws and regulations. They shall follow the rules of the Association to the best of their ability.
- * Members shall strive to remain current in their knowledge of the industry trends and of the new laws and regulations, and shall share information with the membership of the Association.
- * Members shall conduct themselves in a professional manner at all times and shall promote a positive image of the towing industry and the Vermont Towing Association.